HANOVER YOUTH ACQUITTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

An Adams County jury, after an hour's deliberation this morning held that 20-year-old Eugene Klinedinst, Hanover, helped sign his own death warrant when he sought to remove the foot of Robert A. Stevens, 21, Hanover from the accelerator of an auto three miles south of Cross Keys at 2 o'clock on the morning of August 23.

The jury returned at 10:55 o'clock this morning with a verdict of innocent in the involuntary manslaughter charge against Stevens, but required that Stevens pay the costs.

The defendant had been the only person to appear on the stand in his own defense. He admitted that he was driving the car in which Eugene Klinedinst was fatally injured. He admitted that he had drunk six bottles of beer during the course of the night. He admitted he was driving 60 miles an hour immediately before the accident occurred.

"An Honest Man"

He testified, however, that he was able to control the car and was properly controlling the car until Klinedinst, a passenger in the front seat of Stevens' car, reached down and was "chasing my feet." Stevens said he thought Klinedinst was seeking to remove his foot from the accelerator because "he thought I was going too fast." Stevens said the motion attracted his attention, he was drinking and traveling faster back he found his car had veered into the wrong lane of traffic. He sought to turn back into his own lane and apparently "turned too quick." The car went out of control, skidded, hit a guy wire of a utility pole, and then smashed into the pole itself.

In his argument to the jury, Atty. S. M. Raffensperger, appointed by the court to defend Stevens, held that Stevens' willingness to admit re was drinking and traveling faster than the speed limit, "proves that here we have an honest man."

"There was no testimony by the Commonwealth as to speed, yet he comes honestly and tells you that he was driving 60. There was no testimony that he had drunk six bottles of beer, but he honestly tells you, together with all the circumstances. I think you can believe him as well when he says that he was in control of the car and there is no evidence

CALENDAR FOR COURT IN 1958 BRINGS CHANGE

The last term of November court is being held in the county court room.

Established 124 years ago, the November term will disappear after this year.

Judge W. C. Sheely Wednesday handed down the court calendar for 1958, which, on the recommendation of the Bar Association, changes the times for three of the four regular terms in order, it was explained, "to give a better division of time, provide quicker justice and help prevent the piling up of a great number of cases in the November term."

February, May, October New

Next year instead of January, April, August and November terms, as has been the custom in Adams County since the state legislature first established the dates in 1834, the county will have terms of court in February, May, August and October.

Grand juries next year will meet February 3, April 28, August 18 and October 6. The regular terms will start February 10, May 5, August 25 and October 13.

Judge Sheely explained that the original dates for terms of court were set in 1834 by state action because Adams was one of a number of counties served by circuit judges who moved from one country to another. As a result the terms were

ASSISTANCE BD. AND STAFF HERE ARE COMMENDED

"The Public Assistance program in Adams County is well administered," Mrs. Ruth G. Horting, state secretary of Public Assistance, told members of the Adams County Board of Public Assistance in a letter read at the county board's November Wednesday evening at the C.H. Musselman plant cafeteria at Biglerville.

The board met there for a dinner session as guests of the Musselman company and at the invitation of the board's vice chairman, Allen S. Stauffer, Biglerville. A tour of the plant was included in the evening's program.

The Horting letter, read to the board by its chairman, the Rev. Charles E. Held, said the board and staff of the Adams County Public Assistance board is to be praised "for the excellent job it is doing in seeing to it that the people of Adams County receive the full benefits of the Public Assistance program and are helped to use other resources in the community."

Wickerham Appointed

Mrs. Donald Myers, executive director of the Public Assistance program in this county, announced to the board the appointment by the state dental society of Dr. R. D. Wickerham of Gettysburg as its representative on the county

WILL CHECK ON COUNTY GRADS

Announcement of a new educational project in the county began as part of National Education Week was made Wednesday evening following a meeting of women's club groups with educators at the office of the Adams County superintendent of schools, Carlisle St.

Superintendent C. P. Keefer said preliminary plans were made for a survey of all recent county high school graduates to be conducted by education committees of various women's groups of the county.

The project was set up, he said, at the suggestion of and in cooperation with the school administrators and guidance counselors and the survey will endeavor to give to the schools a follow-up of the activities of recent graduates.

Tentatively it was decided that about 1,200 graduates will be surveyed to determine how they have fared since leaving school.

Those attending the meeting included County Superintendent Keefer, Gettysburg Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle, Guile W Lefever, Miss Louise Ramer, Selon F. Dockey, Miss LeOra Held, Charles L. Yost, Albert Drachbar, George B. Inskip, Richard D Straup, Alfred Billett, Mrs. Herbert Blye, Mrs. Franklin Bigham, Mrs. Stanley Hull, Mrs. William Darrah, Mrs. Richard Schubart, Mrs. Harold Ecker and Mrs. Kenneth Smoke.

COUPLE LICENSED

A marriage license was issued at the court house to Richard Joseph Storm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Storm, Gettysburg R. 1, and Ruth Ann Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Wagner, Gettysburg R. 3.

PSEA Speaker Says Greatest Peril Today Is Somnambulism

"The greatest danger to democracy is not communism, fascism or socialism, it's somnambulism," Herbert P. Lauterbach, assistant executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, told an audience of 150 at a National Education dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the Keefauver school.

"We must not sleep through this age," the speaker said. "Sputnik has put the spotlight on our public schools. We who are the wealthiest people in the world do not realize that our greatest wealth lies in our boys and girls. We must preserve and protect and keep our wealth."

The dinner session was arranged as part of the local observance of National Education Week in the community. Arrangements for the evening were made by Paul Burkholder, Meade School principal and program chairman for the local PSEA.

Double Anniversary

Attending the affair were local teachers and school administrators, PTA members, representatives of local services clubs and the AAUW. Retired teachers and Dr. Lloyd C. Keefauver, retired superintendent of schools, were guests of the local PSEA which observed its 25th anniversary while the National Education Association observes its 100th anniversary.

A roast beef dinner was served in the school cafeteria by Mrs. Alice Lower and her staff at 6 o'clock. The invocation was given by Dr. Howard S. Fox. The group assembled afterwards in the all-purpose room where Jack Corbin, local PSEA president, presided. There was group singing under the leadership of Paul Grove and President Corbin called the roll of officers of the PSEA in the last 25 years. He paid tribute to their record of service and recognized the various community groups represented Wednesday evening.

Mr. Lauterbach, a former classroom teacher in Aliquippa, Pa., spoke on "The Schools In The Next Twenty Years." He said: "We know what we want in our homes, furnishings, refrigerators, decorations,

NEW EQUIPMENT AT HOSPITAL IS DEMONSTRATED

Newly installed equipment at the Warner Hospital designed to keep constant check on the hearts of patients during operations, and to restore heart beats during the three minutes physicians have to begin heart movement if it stops, was demonstrated Wednesday to the medical staff of the Annie M. Warner Hospital at its regular meeting at the hospital.

Dr. C. R. Cadle, chief of anesthesia at the hospital, and Dr. C. Harold Johnson, local heart specialist and pathologist for the hospital, demonstrated the use of the equipment installed during the last month as part of the renovation of the operating room facilities. It also has included installation of a recovery room where a specially trained nurse watches over patients for several hours following an operation until they recover from the effects of anesthesia and can be returned to their hospital rooms.

Can Restore Heart Beat

Among the new equipment is a Jefferson Ventilator, the two physicians explained, while demonstrating its use. The ventilator regulates the breathing of patients as needed while on the operating table.

Use of the new Cardiac Monitor was shown. The monitor continuously records on a dial the rhythm of the heart beat of the patient under anesthesia so that the surgeons can tell immediately if any alarming change occurs.

Two new machines that use high voltage to regulate and restore heart beat were shown. The one, a Cardiac Pacemaker, uses high voltage to restore the heart to a regular beat if it becomes irregular during an operation. The other, a Cardiac Defibrillator, uses high voltage to establish a heart beat if the heart "stands still," that is, "quivers instead of beats."

The physicians explained that the surgeon has three minutes "to do something if the heart stops—some say four minutes." The equipment is designed to do the work within the three-minute period.

COLLIDE ON LOT

Gettysburg police were called on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock when Bruce Klinefelter, Gettysburg R. 5, reported that his car had been hit by a truck while parked on the Bilbert's Store lot at Franklin St. Police arrived to find that the person owning the truck had returned and was settling with Klinefelter and no further investigation was made.

Exempt Two From Freshman English

Two Adams County Freshmen at Pennsylvania State University are among 377 students there who have exempted from the basic course in English composition.

The students are Donna Jayne Wicker, 248 S. Washington St., a medical technology student and graduate of Gettysburg High School, and George Edward Crum, Gardners R. 2, a journalism student who graduated from Biglerville High School.

Dr. A. Bruce Sutherland, acting head of the department of English, said the exemptions are made on the basis of results of a test given to the new students as a part of their pre-registration testing and counseling. Those exempted are permitted to substitute a more advanced course. Dr. Sutherland also pointed out that exemption for a student reflects credit on the high school where the student was prepared for college as well as upon the student himself.

LESLIE V. STOCK TO HEAD BLACK WALNUT SCOUTS

Leslie V. Stock, Biglerville, retired supervising principal of the Upper Adams County Joint School System and now a Biglerville banker, was named chairman of the Black Walnut Boy Scout District at its annual election dinner Wednesday night at the Albert J. Lentz American Legion Post, Baltimore St. He succeeds John C. W. Riddle, who resigned when he was transferred from chief ranger of the Gettysburg National Military Park to the Acadia National Park. Dr. W. E. Tilberg, W. Lincoln Ave.; Charles E. Ritter, Littlestown and David C. Houck, Arendtsville, were elected district vice chairmen.

District Committee

Hafer served as general chairman for the dinner. Rev. Alexius F. Arnoldin, assistant pastor and scout chaplain of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, gave the invocation. Walter S. Smith, seminary student and member of the district camping and activities committee, gave the benediction.

Charles E. Ritter, district vice chairman, introduced the operating committee chairmen. Stanley C. Rogers, district scout executive,

H. CUNNINGHAM DIES SUDDENLY ON WEDNESDAY

Harry T. Cunningham, 84, retired manager of the local electric company, died suddenly Wednesday night at 11 o'clock at his home, 131 S. Washington St.

He had been in his usual health and was watching television, when he suddenly turned to his wife and asked her to call a physician. Death followed 15 minutes after the physician's arrival.

A native of Baltimore, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George B. Cunningham and came to Gettysburg many years ago to be a body builder in the construction of carriages for Spalding's Livery. Later he became associated with the Gettysburg Power Co. as a motorman to Round Top on the local trolley system.

Was Local Manager

For several years he operated a store on the second block of Baltimore St. near the location of the High Fidelity Center now. Asked to return to the power company to repair some trolley cars, he remained with the company and later became local manager with the electric power company which eventually was merged into the Metropolitan Edison System.

He retired as manager 25 years ago, but had served as night man at the H and H Machine Shop for the last several years.

Surviving is his wife, the former Annie E. Norbeck, to whom he was married 64 years ago last June; three children, Arthur Cunningham, Talmage, Calif.; John Cunningham, Sterling City, Calif., and Mrs. Winfield Beacom, at home. Also sur-

U.S., Britain Tell France We Are Helping Arm Tunisians

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain have told France that they intend to go ahead with the delivery of about 1,500 rifles and 50,000 rounds of ammunition to Tunisia.

This was reported today in the wake of dispatches from Paris reporting that the new government of French Premier Felix Gaillard had objected strenuously. Tunisia borders Algeria where French forces are locked in civil war with Arab rebels.

Sudden Crisis

French Ambassador Herve Alphand and his top advisers spent about 50 minutes at the State Department. They talked with Asst. Secretary C. Burke Elbrick.

It was reported that a crisis had arisen suddenly last night because of a determination by the French government not to go through with arms shipments to the Tunisian government of President Habib Bourguiba.

According to diplomatic reports, France some time ago agreed to deliver arms to Tunisia itself.

The United States, with the support of Britain, had told Bourguiba within the past two months that some Western country would supply the arms he wanted.

Secretary of State Dulles was reported to be convinced that unless Bourguiba got them from the West he would eventually be compelled to take Communist arms through Egypt or Syria.

Mamie Gets Gift Of Trees For Farm

WASHINGTON (AP)— Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower's birthday present from "Little Cabinet" wives is a pair of English hawthorne trees for her Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

The First Lady, 61 today, has been celebrating her birthday for the past two days.

Today, there was a luncheon with the Little Cabinet group, which includes about 120 women whose husbands are under secretaries or assistant secretaries in the Cabinet; Army, Navy and Air Force secretaries or White House staff members.

They had it on good advice from the White House that Mrs. Eisenhower wanted the trees, said Mrs William B. Franke, wife of the undersecretary of the Navy and luncheon cochairman. She said the trees will be planted near the gates at the Eisenhower farm.

BARTHOLOMEW RE-ELECTED BY COUNTY GROUP

Directors of the Adams County Crippled Children's Society at their November meeting Wednesday evening elected officers and ordered two additional wheel chairs to be made available for free use in this county.

Dr. Clarence Bartholomew was re-elected president of the society and Dr. James Allison was chosen vice president again. Miss Ellen R. Miller, Gettysburg school nurse, was named secretary for another year and Mrs. James Parry was elected treasurer. The elections were by acclamation after the report of the Nominating committee was presented by Miss Elizabeth Evans.

The society already owns three wheel chairs but all are in use with no prospect of any of them soon being available for a 14-year-old girl who may soon require a wheel chair for the remainder of her life. Two folding wheel chairs with leg extensions and adjustable backs will be bought. The most recent wheel chair bought by the society cost about $200.

May Enlarge Board

The directors listed for action at the January meeting a proposal to increase the size of the board of directors from 24 to 30. Wednesday's meeting was one of the largest attended in years with about 20 directors present.

The board approved expenses of a 14-year-old girl for a two-day stay in a Johns Hopkins clinic and approved for payment bills for three pairs of special shoes for two crippled girls and a boy, totalling $49. A bill for $20 for brace repairs for a girl suffering from cerebral palsy also was approved for payment and a monthly bill for therapy treatments at the

SUPERIOR COURT UPHOLDS SHEELY

Pennsylvania Superior Court at Philadelphia Tuesday affirmed the order handed down by the Adams County court in 1951, settling the action in trespass brought by Richard O., Mary E. and Barry William Bollinger, New Oxford R. D., against William O. Randall, Hanover.

The Adams County Court had been asked to reopen the case when Barry William Randall was found, several years after the original settlement, to have gone blind in the left eye, apparently as a result of the injuries received when the child, then aged two, ran into the Lincoln highway and was struck by Randall's auto in January, 1950.

The county court, in an opinion handed down by Judge W .C. Sheely, held the the case could not be reopened in the absence of any evidence of fraud because it was based on all facts in evidence at the time and that to reopen would mean no case could ever be settled, because there was always a possibility that years later something might occur that could be traced back to the original incident.

An appeal was made to the Superior Court which Tuesday upheld Judge Sheely's opinion and quoted extensively from that opinion.

PLEADS GUILTY

William Hess Wetzel, Iron Springs, was returned to the Adams County jail Wednesday in default of $500 bail after pleading guilty to a charge of larceny of an auto allegedly stolen September 23 at 8:30 p.m. in Hamiltonban Twp. from Lloyd Sites, Iron Springs. The charge was placed by state police.

WILL IS FILED

Firemen Nominate Officers And Vote Flu Inoculation At Session Wednesday Night

Gettysburg firemen nominated officers, voted for flu inoculations for members, authorized a committee to speak for them with borough council in connection with plans for a new fire house, and heard the final report of the 94th Battle Anniversary committee, at their meeting Wednesday evening in the engine house, E. Middle St.

Decision on the Asian flu shots was made following reading of a letter from Charles C. Smith, Pennsylvania auditor general, in which he said that the Firemen's Relief Funds, which are turned over to the fire companies from a state tax on foreign fire insurance, may be used to pay for flu shots for firemen. Because a number of members have already secured the shots the firemen voted that each active member may secure the shots from his own physician, and be reimbursed from the Firemen's Relief Fund upon turning in a receipted bill from the doctor. Similarly men who have already received the shots may be reimbursed by turning in their receipts.

Culp Reports

President Harold W. Culp turned the meeting over to Vice President Raymond Menges in order to take the door as a member of a firemen's committee which met with the property committee of borough council. He reported on discussions with councilmen on plans before council concerning by a new combined engine house and borough highways building. Culp outlined to the members the different proposals which have already been presented to council by property committee chairman George Naugle. He said, the council committee would like the views of the firemen. The firemen authorized the committee to speak for them in sessions with council.

Profit from the 94th Battle Anniversary totaled $11,899.95, Glenn Weishaar, chairman of the committee, and Donald L. Hammers, its treasurer, reported.

Culp expressed the appreciation of the fire department "for the outstanding work done by Chairman Weishaar and his committee in the most successful battle anniversary program thus far."

The group authorized payment of $3,990.62 for the new carnival site. Culp said "most of our cost can be considered in a sense a donation to the community."

Financial Report

The sum of $1,200 was withheld to serve as a balance for the 95th Battle Anniversary committee to begin its operations, and was placed in that account. $7,909.33 was turned over to the general fund of the fire department. The report showed

PUSH MOVE FOR EXPANSION OF PLANE SERVICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Numerous Pennsylvania, New York and Delaware communities continued to press their case today for expansion of local air service throughout the northeastern United States.

Representatives of Allentown-Bethlehem and Johnstown, Pa.; New Castle County Airport, Del., and Islip and Ogdensburg, N. Y., were scheduled to testify before Examiner John A. Cannon of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Large delegations from Pottsville, Hazleton and other Pennsylvania cities offered testimony yesterday.

Robert L. Banks, Washington, D. C., transportation consultant said a study he had made shows that the 350,000 people who will be served by the Schuylkill County Airport "can make a real contribution to national air service."

"The sheer size of the area to be served warrants good air service," Banks said, adding that Pottsville stands well up in buying power as well as population.

Have New Plants

Joseph H. Zerby III, general manager of the Pottsville Republican newspaper who heads a civic commission trying to bring new industry to the area, said that since 1953 some 185,000 square feet of industrial space has been taken up by newly-attracted plants.

Zerbey said good air service is needed to continue the drive to attract industry and provide jobs in the economically-depressed anthracite region.

Robert F. Miller, Schuylkill County engineer, said plans are under way to provide good highway connections for the new airport. A number of business representatives said air facilities will benefit the entire community.

William W. Yoder, secretary of the Mount Carmel Businessmen's Assn., said that Northumberland County, also, will make use of the Schuylkill County Airport. He urged adequate scheuling of planes.

News Briefs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)— Japan and Canada today laid before the General Assembly a highly controversial list of 10 new nations which the Western powers are backing for membership in an enlarged U.N. Disarmament Commission.

The formal proposal was submitted after negotiations between India and the Western powers failed to produce a list acceptable to neutral nations and the Soviet bloc.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower met with the National Security Council today for another session of budget planning keyed to possibly expanded defense spending and cuts in nonmilitary items. It was the second such meeting this week.

James C. Hagerty, press secretary, said it was not possible "at this time" to say what the President had in mind when he told an Oklahoma City audience last night that a very considerable increase in defense spending would involve cutting out "entire categories" of present government activities.

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—The Navy's "old explorers," veterans of the long dark winter in the antarctic, were told today some but not all of them might get out by Christmas.

Rear Adm. George J. Dufek, Navy commander in the antarctic, told an assembly of the men due for rotation they could leave any time their one-year assignments are up and their jobs completed, if weather and ice conditions permit planes and ships to take them out.

but we (the public) don't know what we want for our children. We must be concerned from this time on with discipline over ourselves and our children which will influence our lives, our families, our homes, our schools, churches and the people in the total community.

Cites Some Problems

"This is a time for re-examining ourselves and for choosing what we want for our boys and girls. We must look ahead and decide what we want to do for them to fit them for life. It's time to talk about what education has to offer in the next 20 years."

He enumerated problems in the field of education: the shortage of 130,000 teachers and the growing population. "By 1965 we will need 2,000,000 new teachers for our children and these teachers are not in sight. For every 72 pupils in 1945, there are now 100 and by 1959 there will be 120. We do not have 340,000 classrooms we need and by 1960 we will be short a half million classrooms. A fifth of the existing classrooms are fire traps.

"We must recognize that these children can't just grow like Topsy, they must grow in a good direction. We have 100,000 teachers now with sub-standard training but we had to have somebody to take care of the school children. W emust restore teaching to a high diginty, encourage teachers to keep studying and see that they get nancial security.

Hub Of Community Life

"It's about time we invest in the exceptional child. We must stop making fun of fine arts and humanities and take a broad look at education for all boys and girls for life, for a profession, for a vocation and for citizenship.

"We are coming to a four-day week and this is a problem for education. What are we going to do with it? Schools must be the hub of community life not just teaching the Three R's. We must bring to each child special aids in learning, provide special classes and give children every intellectual opportunity. We will have to, for we'd be afraid not to. We must push and help the gifted child in the arts and humanities. Schools must be available for adults in the community, adults who want extension classes, summer classes, and evening classes.

Forced By Sputnik

"Schools in the next 20 years will be on a federal level financially. We will have to begin to tax intangible wealth and not only property. There will have to be special care for the physically and mentally handicapped children. There will be special help for the improvement of health of expectant mothers and there will be more nursery schools because of the many working mothers.

"We will provide more expanded scholarships for our young people to go to college so that ability and not only the financial means may have more say in the selection of college material. Sputnik has forced us to find answers to our problems in education."

Brains And Beauty Win Place In Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Barbara Hall, the show girl who proved brains and beauty sometimes go together, has won her first speaking role on Broadway in "One Foot in the Door."

Miss Hall successfully answered $64,000 worth of questions about Shakespeare on a television show between performances in "Ziegfeld Follies" last spring. In the musical she just paraded about the stage and never said a word.

In "One Foot in the Door," she appears in the supporting cast for star June Havoc. The play arrives on Broadway Dec. 4.

MARRIAGE NO SCHOOL BAN

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — The state attorney general's office says public school students in New Mexico cannot be expelled because they marry. The opinion, by Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert Pyatt, said exclusion of married students from public schools could not be read into New Mexico's constitutional provisions on schooling. Educators have said more and more high school students are marrying while still in school.

Local Jaycees To Hear National Head

CHARLES E. SHEARER, JR.

Shearer, a 34-year-old native of Shelbyville, Ind., is on an eastern tour. He was Indiana state president two years ago, leading his state from 37th to eighth place in the "Parade of States." The "Parade" is an annual ranking of state Jaycee achievements.

to the contrary, until the sudden, unusual movement of his friend, young Klinedinst, seeking to grab his foot, attracted his attention momentarily, as it would anyone's, and he glanced down, as anyone would. In that instant the car, which had been in control up to that time, was out of control because the driver's attention had been diverted."

Saw Him "Grab"

William Muntz, 18, Hanover, and Herbert McDonald, 19, also of Hanover, appeared as Commonwealth witnesses. They told of being with Stevens and Klinedinst and of drinking on the part of the group.

One testified he believed Stevens had had about three bottles of beer. Muntz and McDonald testified that Klinedinst had leaned down just before the accident. One said he saw Klinedinst grab at Stevens' feet, the other said his view was impeeded and he could not tell what Klinedinst was "grabbing for" near the floor of the front seat of the car.

Say Fugitive Is Escaped Madman

WASHINGTON (AP)— The FBI said today fingerprints found on an abandoned automobile which figured in the killings of two North Carolina highway patrolmen on Nov. 5 have been identified as those of a man who escaped from a New York State mental hospital.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover named the fugitive as Frank Edward Wetzel, 36, who fled last month from the mental hospital at Willard, N.Y.

The FBI director said a nationwide search is under way for Wetzel.

At Charlotte, N.C., local authorities have issued a "John Doe" murder warrant for the slayer of the two patrolmen.

STABS HUSBAND

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Police Chief James Dougherty said today that Lester Taltoan, 23, was stabbed to death by his 17-year-old wife when he came home late.

Dougherty said Taltoan arrived home at 2:30 a.m. today and got into an argument with his wife, Nancy. The chief said the young wife picked up a 10-inch butcher knife and waved it at her husband.

Hospital Fact

Wheels: Warner Hospital literally moves on them.

Warm meals travel in heated carts. Books and newspapers, life-saving oxygen and precision instruments roll to the bedside. A dressing cart trails the nurse. The patient travels on a wheeled stretcher, or in his own rubber-tired bed. During convalescence he takes the sun in a wheelchair. Another convenience is the rolling over-bed table.

Hand and platform trucks convey mountains of linen and supplies with dispatch. Virtually every patient arrives and leaves on wheels — by private car, cab, or ambulance.

"WARM THOUGHTS"

Warm thoughts ignite the embers . . . that linger in my heart . . . and they rage to intensity . . . as my sweet dreams depart . . . fond recollection takes me . . . to blissful days of yore . . . the times that have a special place . . . in memory's golden store . . . I feel the tender kisses . . . of love now said and done . . . they bloom like magic flowers . . . beneath a brilliant sun . . . of course I know it's folly . . . to wander in the past . . . still, somehow there's a certain thrill . . . in joy the years amassed . . . and though beyond recalling . . . they foster faith and hope . . . that does so much to help me climb . . . the future's rugged slope . . . and so from time to time I drift . . . in thoughts of yesteryear . . . so warm and sweet, filled with the things . . . I always shall revere.

HOSPITAL FUND GIVEN DONATION BY VFW POST

Visitors from the East Berlin Veterans of Foreign Wars Post were guests at the semi-monthly meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW, held on Tuesday evening at the post home, W. King St. They were Richard Myers, Deputy Inspector of District 21; Allen Moul, past District Commander; Russell Fissel and Lester Chronister.

Donations were voted to the Warner Hospital Building Fund and the Eaton Rapids National Home. Earl J. Weaver reported on the dance held recently by the post. One new member was enrolled on Tuesday, Edwin Calvin Sheely. Adjutant John H. Riley gave his report. Plans were made to hold the annual New Year's Eve dance at Bankert's, N. Queen St., from 9 to 1 o'clock. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Earl Weaver, Robert L. Snyder and Bernard Kuhns. The veterans will meet again on Tuesday, November 26.

In observance of National Education week, the Future Teachers of America of the Littlestown High School presented the weekly assembly program for the junior-senior high students on Wednesday afternoon, in the school auditorium, under the supervision of Miss LeOra L. Held, of the faculty. Joyce Barnes, FTA president, presided. A skit on the life of Horace Mann was given by the FTA. A display in commemoration of this week's observance has been arranged by the FTA in the show window at the John L. Redding barber shop, S. Queen St.

Rotarians On Visit

Approximately 20 members of the Littlestown Rotary Club traveled to Westminster for an inter-city meeting on Monday evening, held in Fellowship Hall of Unity of Christ Church. The address was given by Percy Hodson, of Providence, R. I., past national president of Rotary. Members of the local club who did not go to Westminster, met for a brief dinner session on Tuesday evening at Schottie's Hotel.

The regular meeting will be held next Tuesday, 6:15 p.m., at Schottie's, when the program will be in charge of the Vocational Service Committee, composed of Albert J. Bair, chairman, Charles E. Ritter, Donald Z. Mann, Roy Koontz, Ernest W. Dunbar, Mervin Harner and the Rev. David S. Kammerer.

The members of the Youth Choir and the Senior Choir of St. John's Lutheran Church were served an oyster supper in the church social hall last evening, in appreciation for the fine work of the organizations in the ministry of music in the church. The meal was served by the Golden Deeds, Ever Willing and Tuck-a-Bache Classes.

Mrs. Viola Badders, Lumber St., was hostess to the members of the Ever Willing Sunday School class of St. John's Lutheran Church for the monthly meeting held on Tuesday evening at her home. The program consisted of a hymn sing; scripture by Mrs. Myrtle Leister; prayer, Mrs. Badders; a poem by Mrs. Anna Weaver and a recording of The Story of the Lord's Prayer, with narration by Amos, of the Amos 'n Andy team.

Mrs. Ruthanna Starner, president, was in charge of the business, and received reports from Mrs. Janet Reaver and Mrs. Mary Beamer; she also appointed Mrs. Anna Weaver and Mrs. Ruth Strevig to serve as the flower committee for the month. The Christmas candy will be available on December 14. The class members will go Christmas caroling on Sunday, December 15, meeting at 5:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Shirley Renner, East King Street. The next meeting, to be held on Tuesday, December 10, at 6:30 p.m., will be in the form of a covered dish supper. Turkey will be provided by the class and each member will take a covered dish; also a one dollar gift for exchange and a gift to be sent to the National Lutheran Home for the Aged. Refreshments were served on Tuesday by the hostess.

ROLL CALL AT TRINITY SUNDAY

Vespers at Trinity United Church of Christ will be featured by the showing of the motion pictures taken last summer at Cleveland when the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed united to form the United Church of Christ.

The colorful procession through the streets of Cleveland to the large auditorium in the city's Music Hall will open the story. The act which formed the United Church when the Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, president of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, and the Rev. Dr. Fred Hoskins, president of the Congregational Christian Churches, joined hands will be seen. Highlights from the Uniting General Synod in its three-day sessions follow.

The public is invited to attend this service. The regular Youth Fellowship hour will be combined with Vespers which begins at 7 p.m.

At 10:35 a.m., the commissioning of the annual Kingdom Roll Call visitors will take place. Twenty-four men of the church will be commissioned to make visits into the homes of the congregation for the purpose of talking over the work of the church. Visiting will begin at 2 p.m.

These visitors will meet with the pastor, Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox, and the financial secretary of the church, John B. Kendlehart, on Friday evening at 8 o'clock to be briefed and given supplies. Kenneth P. Hull is the chairman of the visitation.

Williams Is Rechosen As Postmaster: Charles A. Williams, Hanover street, Gettysburg postmaster since July 4, 1933, has been recommended by Congressman Harry L. Haines for reappointment at the expiration of his current term, which ends February 1, 1938.

In sending his written recommendation of Mr. Williams for reappointment to W. H. Howe, first assistant postmaster general, Congressman Haines wrote in part: "Mr. Williams has proved to be an excellent postmaster and his service is greatly appreciated by the patrons of his office. I am proud to recommend his reappointment."

Mr. Williams became acting postmaster in July 1933 when the local office was rated in the second class. He succeeded John H. Eckert.

14-Year-Old Fire Siren Is "Worn Out": Gettysburg's fire siren is worn out — "completely worn out" — in the words of James B. Aumen, local fire company president, Wednesday morning after electricians had examined the mechanism that had failed to respond to an alarm Tuesday morning.

President Aumen stated that the workmen discovered that parts of the siren mechanism are broken and cannot be repaired here. Until a siren or other type of alarm is installed the old fire bell will be used to sound the alarms.

The siren has been in use here since June 15, 1923. On that day the late Charles Kappes, then a local contractor, workmen and firemen placed the apparatus in the newly-erected cupola on the engine house and sounded test blasts that were heard as far north as Biglerville and at Two Taverns on the south.

Scharf Named P.H.A. Director: Pittsburgh, Nov. 10 (AP) — Franklin Moore, of Harrisburg will continue as president of the Pennsylvania Hotels association.

He was re-elected at a meeting of the state organization in conjunction with the American Hotel Association convention.

Named as a director was Henry M. Scharf, Gettysburg.

Today's Talk

DIVIDENDS

Dividends paid by a stock—"tried and true" — over a long term of years, give one a happy thrill as they are paid. It is a good turnabout for money that you have earned, to work for you! It's the same with so many other things. The appreciation and love for books, return many a valuable dividend in the shape of increased knowledge, pleasure, and new ideas.

Our friends are always a valuable investment, and they pay dividends in the shape of kindness, good advice, and rare understanding, when one is in trouble or discouraged. Anyone can go far in life if he, or she, will carefully choose a friend or two to round out life's great adventure.

Nature is forever giving out dividends, through its harvests, and natural gifts. Look about you. What a dividend creator has this good earth of ours been, ever since man became an inhabitant! In the near future, if he doesn't attempt to blow the earth to shreads, man will have advanced civilization beyond the dreams of the most optimistic.

Henry D. Thoreau and John Muir, the California nature lover, must have been very happy men for they never tired of walking and investigating that they might get others to love this earth as they did. Increasing dividends of happiness came to these men and they, in turn, passed this happiness to others. Both were benefactors.

We get dividends from so many sources. Merely to appreciate beauty is to be rich. You can't board-up ideas, and the dreams of men. Only in freedom is there progress. Think for a moment of what a dividend freedom is! Its spiritual dividend alone is beyond anything monetary.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Sense of Values"

Just Folks

OLD JOE'S METHOD

Old Joe had a method distinctly his own,
But I vow it would help every one of us here
If only Joe's notions were much better known
And practiced a bit on this old hemisphere.
He never spoke evil of friend or of foe,
But said: "If I would I could tell what I know.
Some day in the future perhaps I'll let loose
And tell him his faults and give him the deuce.
But, today ain't the time for a human to scoff,
So I'll just put it off."

And once on a time when the town rascal died
We all sat rejoicing because he was gone;
Old Joe slowly said: "Well, he cut a path wide,
But I'm kinder sorry he had to pass on.
I could tell what he did while he dwelt in his prime,
But the poor fellow's dead, and this ain't the time;
He never wronged me, so I'll pray for his soul,
For maybe God knows how he made his bank roll.
He never meant us at weak brothers to scoff,
So I'll just put it off."

50 HEREFORDS ON SALE TODAY

HARRISBURG (AP)—More than 50 polled Hereford cows and bulls were put up for sale today in the 1st annual Pennsylvania National Livestock Exposition.

The four-day show will end tomorrow with the auction sale of all marketable animals entered in tre exposition.

Yesterday Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan visited the show with Gov. Leader and described the exposition as "very impressive."

"For a first attempt at sponsoring a national show, your state certainly has made a lasting impression on the livestock industry," Williams told Leader.

In a speech, Leader said he thinks "Pennsylvania will eventually become one of the top states in this part of the country for quality beef."

Leader made his remarks at a banquet of the Polled Hereford Show and Sales Assn., holding its 36th annual convention here, the first in an Eastern state.

PINEAU OBJECTS TO ALLIED ARMS FOR TUNISIA

PARIS (AP) — Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said today the French government will consider any American or British delivery of arms to Tunisia contrary to Atlantic solidarity.

Pineau told the National Assembly's Foreign Affairs Committee that Britain and the United States "are about to effect delivery of arms to Tunisia."

He said France "regretted this Anglo-American initiative."

Pineau announced the Cabinet's opposition to arms for France's former protectorate after an all-night series of meetings and exchanges between Premier Felix Gaillard and British and American envoys.

Aim To Block Reds

U. S. Ambassador Amory Houghton delivered a note to Gaillard yesterday stating the United States wants to go ahead with arms deliveries to Tunisia. By doing so, the Americans hope to stave off Tunisian acceptance of Soviet-bloc arms offered by Egypt.

The U. S. note aroused speculation that Premier Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has received new offers from Egypt or Communist-bloc countries.

The French are reluctant to see any arms flow into Tunisia for fear they will funnel on to the Algerian rebels.

Calls Off Speech

After delivery of the American note, Gaillard called off a scheduled speech and hurriedly convened his Cabinet. Later he conferred with Houghton and the British charge d'affaires, Sir George Young.

The American Embassy called the meeting "a very small affair ... a family squabble." There were indications the United States might be willing to delay the arms deliveries, but the British were reported demanding quick supplies for Bourguiba, thus far a staunch friend of the West.

FEWER CASES OF FLU REPORTED IN SOME AREAS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A number of states reported fewer new cases of influenza and influenza-like diseases last week but various other states reported continued high incidence, the U.S. Public Health Service said today.

The service also reported that deaths from pneumonia and influenza in 114 large cities increased by only 4 per cent during the week ended Nov. 9 when compared with the previous week. There had been an 11 per cent increase during the week end Nov. 2.

Deaths from all causes in the 114 cities decreased by less than one per cent last week as compared with the week ended Nov. 2.

The 887 deaths from pneumonia and influenza last week ran three times the 291 in the corresponding 1956 week.

2,410 More Deaths

Since Sept. 1 there have been 2,410 more deaths from influenza and pneumonia than in the similar 1956 span. Nearly 90 per cent of the excess occurred in the past six weeks.

The service's weekly summary of the Asian flu situation estimated there were 1,100,000 new cases in 38 states during the week ended Nov. 9, based on reports from state health authorities.

This made the estimated total at least 8,350,000 cases since early June but a spokesman said that was probably a very low calculation.

He pointed to another report released today which estimated there were 11,771,000 new cases of acute upper respiratory disease, involving at least one day in bed during the week ended Oct. 19.

50,700,000 Cases

This report, based on preliminary figures from a survey, estimated there had been 50,700,000 cases of such upper respiratory illness between mid-July and Oct. 19.

It said the total continued to show an upward trend with no indication a peak had been reached by Oct. 19.

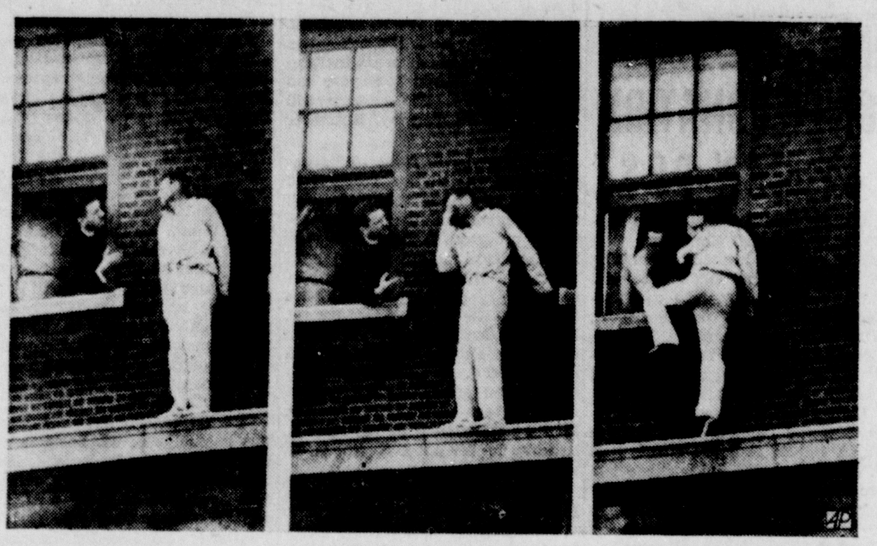

During the week ended Oct. 19 it was estimated 6,014,000 persons, or about one in every 28 in the nation, were confined to bed each day because of the respiratory illnesses.

The spokesman said there was no way to figure how many of the new cases reported in the survey study were influenza.

It is estimated about three million Mexican Indians do not speak Spanish; only their tribal languages.

Air Force Demonstrates Its Strength, Mobility In Many Jet Tanker, Fighter Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force today pointed to the record-setting flights of a jet tanker plane as evidence that its far-reaching striking power must not be downrated in this dawning missile era.

The KC135 jet tanker hops to Buenos Aires and back were part of an apparent Air Force demonstration of strength and mobility. There also were distance flights of bombers and fighters far into the Pacific, and a group of B52 intercontinental jet bombers stated on a visit to Argentina.

The Boeing KC135 and its crew—headed by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay—received special welcome here yesterday after flying 5,204 miles from Buenos Aires in 11 hours, 5 minutes and 8 tenths of a second. This first nonstop jet flight between the Argentine capital and Washington was made at an average speed of 469.5 miles an hour.

This same ship and crew last Monday set a distance record for nonrefueled jet flight in streaking from Westover Air Force Base, Mass., to Buenos Aires—a stretch of 6,325 miles—in 13 hours, 2 minutes and 51 seconds. That flight was made over a longer range to underscore the plane's long reach.

LeMay, Air Force vice chief of staff, piloted the KC135 for much of both trips. He received the Distinguished Flying Cross at an airport ceremony on his arrival here. Other members of the tanker's crew also were decorated.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said the achievement is "just one indication of the global capabilities" of the Air Force.

Routine In Four Years

Secretary of the Air Force Douglas said the flight "is history today. It will be routine in a few years."

LeMay told newsmen aboard "We haven't got the missiles yet, but we do have the planes." He formerly was chief of the Strategic Air Command, this country's most potent long-range striking arm.

The KC135 communications facilities could fit it to be an aerial operations headquarters. The facilities are so powerful that persons aboard the plane, while cruising at 40,000 feet, can talk with others as much as 2,000 miles away.

Experimental Plane

The plane is an experimental model. It is partly soundproofed; has 30 seats, a writing desk and half a dozen bunks.

The Air Force also was staging other exhibitions of its distance capabilities.

Six B52 bombers headed for Buenos Aires to take part in Argentine air show later in the week. The six planes, based at Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, Maine made an interim stop last night at Homestead, Fla.

Fourteen F100C Sabre Jets reached Hickam Air Force Base, Honolulu, yesterday after a five-hour, 2,400-mile flight from California, en route to Guam.

A flight of F100D fighter bombers from Gannon Air Force Base, New Mexico, flew to Hickam today, to be followed tomorrow by a group of F100 Voodoo fighters.

Yesterday, three twin-jet B66 bombers landed at Clark Air Force Base near Manila, after a nonstop transpacific flight from the United States.

Presents Awards

Dr. William O. Duck, retiring training chairman, presented a number of awards for outstanding service. Den Mothers awards went to Mrs. Miriam J. Bruce, of Pack 73, sponsored by the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Ray Culp, of Pack 79, sponsored by St. James Lutheran Church.

The first Explorer advisor's key presented in the district went to Robert G. Zeigler, of Post 73. Scoutmasters' keys were awarded Glenn A. Bream, of Troop 70, sponsored by Trinity Lutheran and Zion United Church of Christ, Arendtsville, and Eugene B. Eckert, scoutmaster of Troop 73.

Scouter awards were given to Dr. Frederick Tilberg, district health and safety chairman; Charle E. Trump, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 75, sponsored by the Idaville-Gardners communities; Eugene K. Albright and G. Edwin Motter, committeemen of Troop 75; Forrest E. Craver Jr., committeeman of Post 73; Charles W. Holtz, chairman of Troop and Post 78, sponsored by St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church; Charles A. Hemler, committeeman of Troop 78; Ross D. Swartz, committeeman of Post 71, Biglerville, and William E. Kershner, district organization and extension chairman.

Other Awards

G. Henry Roth announced award of special recognition plaques to L. D. Snyder, who has been active as a committeeman with the Littlestown Boy Scout troop for more than 15 years; Attorney Daniel E. Teeter, finance chairman for the district for many years; Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times, for support of scouting over a 30-year period, and Parker H. Cunningham, manager of WGET.

Ray R. Weigand, York-Adams Area Council Scout executive, installed the new officers and the new operating committee chairmen announced by District Chairman Stock as: Advancement, Dr. Frank N. Hewetson; camping and activities, Crosby N. Hartzell; finance, Attorney Daniel E. Teeter; health and safety, Dr. Frederick Tilberg; leadership training, Richard E. Bruce; organization and extension, William E. Kershner; public relations, Allen S. Stauffer.

District Scout Executive Stanley C. Rogers told the 90 present at the dinner: "Our district has shown excellent increases during the year, all of which are due to the work of devoted persons such as yourselves. Our boy membership increased from 626 a year ago to 739. The number of units has increased from 24 to 28. During the year 315 boys advanced one rank in scouting compared to 79 the year before. The number of Cubs increased from 270 to 334; the number of Scouts from 276 to 302 and the number of Explorers from 80 to 103." Rogers urged the district to accept as a goal: "1,000 boys in 35 units by the 1958 annual meeting."

Bulleit Speaks

Attorney Edward B. Bulleit, president of the York-Adams Area Council, brought greetings from the council and told the group: "Attorney Eugene Hartman, Dr. W. E. Tilberg, Attorney Daniel Teeter and myself, who represent the Black Walnut District on the York-Adams Council, are able to boast of what is being done here in our district. We are able to boast only because you, the leaders of the district, are doing an outstanding job."

District Commissioner Hafer and others paid tribute to Dr. W. E. Tilberg and Attorney Bulleit as "the two men from the Black Walnut District who have been presidents of the York-Adams Council Dean Tilberg was the first president when the council was formed 25 years ago and was president for many years. Now Attorney Bulleit has taken over the principal post in the council."

Harvey V. Higley Resigns VA Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harvey V. Higley has resigned as veterans administrator.

President Eisenhower accepted the resignation late yesterday "with reluctance and a very real sense of loss."

Higley's letter to the President assigned no reason for his move, but said he wanted to be relieved of his post "as early as convenient."

From other sources it was learned that Higley told the White House in September that he wanted to go back to private life.

Active in Wisconsin Republican affairs, Higley was chairman of the board of Ansul Chemical Co. at Marinette, Wis., until he took the Veterans Administration post July 22, 1953.

MARINE GUILTY OF BRUTALITY

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — One U. S. Marine was convicted and another acquitted today as the Navy began trials of 16 Leathernecks accused of brutality to brig prisoners at Sasebo naval base.

Cpl. Glenn W. Fredericks, 21, Fleetmute, Alaska, was sentenced to 14 days at hard labor and reduced to private rank for punching a sailor while Fredericks was on guard duty in the Navy brig at the south Japan Navy base.

Chester Small, chairman of the public turkey party to be held November 26, announced that 80 turkeys have been secured for the party.

A letter from the president of Gettysburg College, General Willard S. Paul, was read, asking that a representative from the fire department be named to serve on the college president's advisory committee. President Culp will name the representative in the early future.

Named to the duty roster for December were Howard Hankey, Clifford Harman, Glenn Harner, Robert Hartman, Robert Heflin and Robert Heyser.

The real name of Duke Ellington, famed jazz musician and composer, is Edward Kennedy Ellington. He was an art student before he turned to music.

TAX INCREASE PREDICTED BY HARRY TRUMAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman predicted today an income tax increase will be necessary to meet the crisis brought about by Soviet technological advances.

"You have a situation to meet and there is only one way to do it," said Truman. "There has to be a tax increase."

He said he had not heard or read President Eisenhower's speech at Oklahoma City last night in which the President said defense spending for space age weapons must be boosted by a very considerable amount.

As Truman took his customary early morning walk during a visit here, reporters apprised him of the President's views and asked Truman if he thought such increased spending would mean an income tax hike.

Must Pay Bill

"The bill is going to have to be paid and there is only one place the money can come from," Truman replied.

Asked specifically if this meant a tax increase, Truman smiled and answered: "Use your head, use your head. Can you find any other way to do it?"

Informed that President Eisenhower opposed paring foreign aid funds in an effort to trim the budget, Truman commented "That makes good sense."

Earlier during his visit here, Truman said the nation should stop worrying about Russia's Sputniks and concentrate on civil rights, including the problem posed by Little Rock.

Unafraid Of Sputnik

Truman, speaking last night at a dinner of the Joint Defense Appeal of the American Jewish Committee and the Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai B'rith, said:

"Don't worry about the Sputniks. We can take care of that situation.

"Let's make sure we preserve the greatest inspiration we can give the world, the liberties and rights we profess through one of the most wonderful documents in the world—the Constitution of the United States."

Warriors Invade Hanover Friday Night; Delone Will Entertain Scotland Cadets

Only Gettysburg and Delone High Schools will be engaged in gridiron warfare Friday evening, other county schools having concluded their seasons.

Ben Jones' Warriors travel to Hanover to meet the South Penn League leaders while Delone endts season by hosting Scotland at McSherrystown. Gettysburg has one additional game on its schedule, entertaining Hershey here next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Gettysburg At Hanover

Throughout the years a Gettysburg-Hanover football game has always meant a big crowd and Fridays' clash will be no exception. The Hawks sorely need victory to remain as the league leaders while the Warriors would enjoy nothing better than to knock off their old rivals.

Hanover (6-1-1) started the season with but seven lettermen but thanks to the fast development of several sophomores, plus the transfer of Tom Ferguson, senior quarterback, from an Ohio school, the Hawks came along with a rush. Their only loss was a 20-14 setback at the hands of Delone in the opening game of the season while later they battled Westminster to a 6-6 tie.

Coach Sammy Padjen has installed the split-T offense this season. Ferguson, a 6-2 166-pounder, has proven very efficient in directing play and his deadly passes have paid dividends time and again. His favorite target is Dave Rodman, 6-0 senior end. In addition to Rodman, other veterans from last year include George Stetter, 186; Phil Berkheimer, 198, and Ed Cohn, 192, all tackles; Sonny Shoaf, 152, and Lee Wise, 173, guards, and Tom Good, 156, back.

Pep Rally Tonight

The Warriors have worked hard all week in preparing for the game and hope to spring a surprise against the favored Hawks.

Tonight at 7:15 the student body will hold a pep rally and bonfire at the high school after which they will march, headed by the school band, to Lincoln Square and back to the school.

Scotland At Delone

Delone Catholic, its dreams of an unbeaten season and a Central Penn Catholic League title erased during the past two weeks, will attempt to pick up the pieces and end an otherwise successful season with a triumph over the invading Scotland Cadets.

The Squires started brilliantly this season with six straight triumphs, including a triumph over Hanover, current kingpins of the South Penn loop, and were heralded as one of the strongest teams in this area.

The bubble suddenly bursted on November 2 when Cumberland Valley pulled an upset 14-7 and then on Monday the Squires submitted to a humiliating 34-7 trouncing at the hands of Bishop McDevitt at Harrisburg.

Whether the Squires can rebound from two straight surprise reverses remains to be seen. They could find the going rough against the Cadets who have shown plenty of ability from time to time. Delone's Coach Tom Carr piloted Scotland last year.

Delone will have 13 Seniors on hand for the last time. They include: Ends, Mike Conrad, Bill Wierman and Jim O'Brien; tackles, Jerry Eline, Frank Henry and Larry Leonard; guards, Dick Smith, Bob Smith, Charles Kiser and Jim Small; center, Mike O'Brien; backs, Larry Hockensmith and Earl Mann.

Among those returning next year will be Johnny Gastley and Buck Washington, star halfbacks, who are now Juniors.

Other Games

South Penn action Friday night also includes the following important games: Chambersburg at Carlisle, Middletown at Hershey, and Mechanicsburg at Waynesboro.

PONDER BIDS FOR PROPERTY

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Department of Property and Supplies today considered purchase bids for two staff residences and two farm properties at the Danville State Hospital.

The bids were submitted yesterday at a public auction at Danville.

Secretary Andrew M. Bradley said the bids were accepted as options to buy and were subject to review by the department before being classed as a sale.

The properties and bidders:

Farm property, 89 acres in Mahanoning Twp., known as the Blizzard Property, bid $25,500 by George Wagner, acting as agent for the Congregation of Sisters of St. Cyril and Methodius of Sacred Heart Villa Academy. The property adjoins the academy.

Farm property, 134 acres in Mahanoning Twp. and Danville Borough, bid $2,600 by R. L. Gatski, Danville R. 5.

Three story brick building, 113 W. Market St., Danville, bid $9,000 by George Wagner, acting for himself.

Two and one-half story frame building at 625 E. Market St., Danville, bid $5,300 by James R Tressler, Riverside.

DELONE SCRUBS DEFEAT EAGLES FOR THIRD WIN

Delone Catholic High's unbeaten junior varsity football team chalked up its third victory Wednesday evening at McSherrystown by trouncing Cumberland Valley 27-0.

The Squires scored in the second period on a 7-yard scamper by Wayne Sponseller. Pat Sheaffer ran for the extra point.

In the third period Delone added two more touchdowns. The first came on a 3-yard smash by "Chick" Livelsberger and the second by Cyril Hockensmith on a 14-yard run. Hockensmith ran fo rthe point after Livelsberger's score.

Bollinger plunged over from the 4 to give the Squires their final touchdown in the last period. Dave Topper fired a pass to Biff Rosensteel for the point.

The lineups:

4 CONVICTED REDS FREED BY APPEALS COURT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Four Philadelphia Communists, convicted three years ago of violating the Smith Act, have won acquittal in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The Circuit Court yesterday also granted new trials to five other Communists convicted at the same time.

Those freed were Benjamin Weiss, 32, local party treasurer; Irvin Katzl, 38; Walter Lowenfels, 59, a Daily Worker writer; and Sherman Labovitz, 32. They had been sentenced to two years in jail after a 71-day trial in 1954. They have been free on bond pending the appeals.

Granted new trials were Joseph Kuzma, 35; Joseph Roberts, 47, alias Sam Gobeloff; David Dubinsky, alias David Jones, a former union official; Thomas Nabried, 54, an alleged party organizer, and Robert Klonsky.

The Circuit Court opinion by Judge William H. Hastie said new teachings of the Yates case, decided June 17 by the U. S. Supreme Court, were decisive in the appeals of the nine men.

Judge Hastie pointed out that the Yates decision required proof the defendants advocated to "do something."

Civil War Vet Is 115 Years Old Today

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — White-haired Walter Williams, one of the two remaining Civil War veterans, celebrates his 115th birthday today.

Williams, who has always loved music, will have a Western band playing at his home for his birthday. No big celebration has been planned, but friends are expected to drop by during the day for cake and punch.

The Confederate veteran is three years older than John Salling of Slant, Va., the only other living Civil War veteran. Salling also is a Confederate.

Delone Students First In Contest

Richard Restak, a member of the junior class of Delone Catholic High School, is the winner of the "Voice of Democracy" contest sponsored annually by the Hanover Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A son of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Restak, Hanover, the 16-year-old student compiled 222 points in the judging which took place Tuesday night.

Runnerup was Thomas Colgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh F. Colgan, 328 Ridge Ave, McSherrystown. He is a senior at Delone. Third place went to Connie Rebert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Rebert, Hanover R. 4, a student at St. Joseph's Academy, McSherrystown.

Jim Walsh To Sign With Phila. Warriors

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jim Walsh, former Stanford and U.S. Olympic basketball star, has agreed to sign with the Philadelphia Warriors and may be here in time to play against Syracuse tonight.

Eddie Gottlieb, owner of the National Basketball Assn. team, announced yesterday that Walsh had come to terms by telephone and intended to fly from San Francisco with little delay.

Walsh, a 6-4, 195-pound backcourt ace, was on the 1956 Olympic team that defeated Russia in the world's title game.

BUD WILKINSON MAY BE LOSING WEATHER GRIP

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma will put a number of records on the line when it meets Notre Dame in a nationally televised battle here Saturday — and one of them may be broken at the outset of the intersectional battle.

Coach Bud Wilkinson is rumored to have controlled the weather almost as well as he has the scores of Oklahoma's home games.

During his 10-year tenure as head coach, the Sooners have never played a home game in the rain. That's one record which may be snapped this weekend. Rain has fallen for three days and more showers are forecast through Friday.

For two days this week, the Sooners practiced in the mud, then were driven inside yesterday by rain and water on the practice field.

Coach Bud Wilkinson says the muddyfield practice may come in handy this weekend.

He admits that rain and mud hamper his team's fast-break offense, which is based largely on speed.

G-BURG ADDS NINTH SOCCER TRIUMPH 8-1

Gettysburg College's soccer team, best in the school's history, ran its winning streak to seven straight and its season mark to 9-1-1 by easily defeating Lycoming 8-1 at Williamsport Wednesday.

Once again it was Don Emich who led the scoring with four goals, three of which came in the final period. Other Bullet goals came from Henschen (2), Perrine and Adams. Perrine's goal opened the scoring after 10 minutes of the first period.

Lineups:

Pos.	Gettysburg	Lycoming
G	Byrne	Humann
RF	Hathaway	Dunston
LF	Crain	Glunk
RH	Marsden	Moskowitz
CH	Bob Smith	Griffith
LH	Youse	Wallis

DEADLINE FOR DODGERS HERE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The deadline for dropping flies in the Los Angeles Dodgers' baseball ointment is today—and citizens protesting the Chavez Ravine real estate deal say they are set to unload a whopper.

A group called the Committee to Save Chavez Ravine for the People says it has collected at least 51,787 reasons why the Dodgers may not be playing in the for seeable future in Walter O'Malley's proposed dream stadium.

The committee said that before the 5 p.m. deadline a petition with more than the required 51,787 signatures to force a public election on the city's Chavez Ravine deal will be filed with the City Election Commission.

The petition, if valid, could force a special election within three months, or the referendum could go on the next regular election ballot in June.

In either case, Dodger President O'Malley's plans to begin construction on a 50,000-seat stadium on the 300 acres given the club by the city would be sidetracked, perhaps completely derailed.

Richest running of the United Nations Handicap occurred at Atlantic City in 1955 when Mrs. H. L. Nathenson's Blue Choir earned $73,600.

EARLY SEASON GRID CHOICES CLING TO LEAD

HARRISBURG (AP) — The list of top Class A scholastic football teams now stands at less than 20 across the state going into the home stretch.

At the end of the season only nine or 10 will be champions of the major loops. Surprisingly, the assault of flu in mid-season did not submerge any teams already in the lead following early games, with the possible exception of the WPIAL.

The early season choices in nearly every area have come through in good style to date.

East — Five teams hold the key to the title of the hugh Eastern Conference. At present powerful Scranton Central dominates the ratings of the Northern Division by a wide margin and probably will continue on to take the area crown.

Picture Is Fuzzy

The picture in the Southern Division is fuzzy because of the rating system, but it appears the current leader, Cass Twp., will be dislodged from that spot in the next two weeks. Cass — which has the most remarkable record of any of the state's leaders — concluded its card last weekend, holding the Southern Division edg over Tamaqua by a few points.

Meanwhile, Tamaqua doesn't face very rough opposition in coming games, meaning a probable loss of ground in the ratings, The team likely to take advantage of this situation is Shamokin. However, the Shamokin club will have to win its remaining games with Pottsville and Mount Carmel, as well as a probable makeup game with Berwick.

Norristown Seems Certain

In the Suburban One Conference Norristown, unbeaten and untied, is virtually a shoo-in for the loop crown. It could sew it up with a win over weak Chester this weekend.

Central—At present, Williamsport is odds-on favorite to win the Central Penn League title as it did last year. However, the Millionaires will have to get past undefeated Lancaster on Thanksgiving Day to clinch the crown.

This weekend Williamsport takes a weekend away from league action in a game with Altoona. Lancaster, meanwhile, should have little difficulty in getting by non-league Milton Hershey.

Hanover, Carlisle Lead

In the South Penn Conference the front-running teams are still Hanover and Carlisle. This weekend Hanover meets Gettysburg and Carlisle takes on Chambersburg. An early season game between the two leaders was postponed because of flu, but probably will have to be played to decide loop supremacy.

West—Leading the huge Western Conference for the upmteenth week is Potent Lewistown, which has had only one touchdown scored on it this season—and that by powerful Tyrone. The Panthers close out their season this weekend against arch rival Huntingdon at Lewistown and should have another win for their string.

INDIANS BLANK BUFFALO BISONS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Springfield Indians have started their move to vacate the cellar in the American Hockey League.

They shutout the Buffalo Bisons 4-0 last night and, in one jump, moved into a triple tie for fourth place with Buffalo and Cleveland. Each team has 11 points, three behind third place Rochester. Hershey and Providence are 1, 2 with 24 and 15, respectively.

Goalie Al Millar made 28 saves as the Indians turned in their first shutout of the season. Bob Beckett, assisted by Buddy Boone, scored Springfield's first goal. A few minutes later Boone tallied, assisted by Beckett.

That was all the Indians needed but Orvall Tessier and Al Nicholson later added two more goals for good measure.

It was the only league game scheduled.

FLU LAYS LOW GIFFORD AND OTHER GIANTS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Asian flu does strange things. It had the world champion New York Giants talking "trouble" today as they prepared for their Sunday National Football League game with the Philadelphia Eagles.

The flu numbered all-league halfback Frank Gifford among its victims last week, and he promptly ran feverishly for 126 yards Sunday as the Giants whipped the Chicago Cardinals 27-14. That was trouble?

Yesterday the virus clipped Gene Filipski, and Jim Patton came up with an old-fashioned charley horse. Those two lead the club in punt and kickoff returns. Another regular defensive back, Dick Nolan, is still hospitalized with the flu.

Thin Backfield

The only defensive backs left unbedded were rookie John (Rebel) Bookman, Ed Hughes, Ed Crawford and Emlen Tunnell.

That means the defensive backfield will be thin Sunday if the ailing Giants are still on the shelf It will also mean Tunnell, aided by Bookman, will have to run back most of the Philadelphia kicks. But that's trouble?

Back in 1953, before Patton and Filipski were ever measured for pro uniforms, Tunnell set the NFL season record for most punts returned—38 for 223 yards.

One year he rolled up more than 850 yards with punt and kickoff returns and intercepted passes.

Frosh In Final At Stevens Trade

Bill Ridinger's Gettysburg College freshman football team will conclude its three-game schedule by opposing Stevens Trade at Lancaster Friday afternoon at 2:30 as the yearlings strive for a perfect season.

The Bullets are unscored upon in winning two games, 34-0 over Bucknell and 32-0 over Franklin and Marshall.

Stevens Trade usually provides the yearlings with plenty of opposition and Friday's game promises to be their stiffest assignment.

VOTE TODAY ON MEDAL SWITCH

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Delegates to the National Convention of the Professional Golfers' Assn. of America today were expected to approve a move to change the PGA match play championship to a 72-hole medal play competition.

While no officials would comment directly, the change to medal play might well conflict in public interest with the United States Golf Assn. Open, which over the years has been dominated by the professionals but which is open to amateurs.

A PGA national open would be restricted to professionals and under that title could well draw censure from the USGA, of which the PGA membership in convention here seems well aware. Gate receipts from the USGA Open far outshadow anything the PGA match play tourney gets year in, year out.

A vote on the switch from match to medal was expected late today.

MACHEN BEATS JACKSON INTO SURRENDER IN 10

By JACK STEVEVNSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A title fight, low blows and possibilities of retirement formed boxing topics today after undefeated heavyweight Eddie Machen slammed and battered Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson into surrender.

The 195-pound Machen, 25, of Redding, Calif., wants the championship bout with Floyd Patterson. He has an added talking point since his televised fight with Jackson last night goes into the record as a 10th-round TKO, the same as Patterson scored over the Hurricane July 29.

Jackson and Manager Lippe Briedbart declared Eddie hit several low blows in taking his 24th straight victory. Machen said he didn't hit below the belt knowingly. Referee Frankie Carter didn't assess any penalties for low punches.

With Jackson's right eye puffed closed at the end of the 10th, Briedbart called Carter over to view the damage and Frankie stopped it. The fight was scheduled for 12 rounds.

"I recommend that the fight be stopped," said Briedbart. Asked if he would have Jackson retire after the two consecutive batterings by Patterson and Machen, Lippe replied: "He'll have to take a long rest. Retirement is up to him."

The Hurricane, from St. Albans, N.Y., who weighed his heaviest at 201 for this one, had little to say. Asked what he thought Machen could do against Patterson, he said only, "It'd be a good fight. Who'd win? I dunno."

Jackson went down for a five count in the first round when he took a left and a right to the head. But from then on he remained upright although staggered repeatedly and wincing visibly under Machen's body attack.

"I thought my left hooks to the body and head hurt him the most," Machen declared.

Patterson had knocked the Hurricane down three times before Referee Ruby Goldstein called a halt after 1:52 of the 10th in their July 29 engagement.

Despite that beating, Jackson's appearance here drew 14,107 fans to the Cow Palace. They paid a gross of $56,877.50.

Sid Flaherty, who manages Machen, said, "Our next move is up to Patterson, if he wants to fight us. If Patterson wants to talk business. If not, maybe we'll go to Europe for some bouts."

CAPITANI 2ND IN PA. SCORING

The three touchdowns scored by Frank Capitani, Gettysburg College fullback, against Scranton last Saturday night has lifted him into second place in Pennsylvania collegiate scoring. The Hershey Hurricane has 57 points on nine touchdowns and three extra points.

Leading the field is George Dintiman, Lock Haven State Teachers College, with 60 points on 10 six pointers.

Don Hailey, Gettysburg halfback, is high in the scoring with eight touchdowns.

Player, College	Tds	Xps	Tp
Dintiman, Lock Haven	10	0	60
Capitani, Gettysburg	9	3	57
Taylor, Geneva	9	0	54

Gettysburg College football fans are reminded that Saturday's game here with Temple will start at 1:30 o'clock, instead of 2.

Reserved seat tickets, printed some time ago, incorrectly state the game as starting at the later hour.

The game with Franklin and Marshall here on November 23 will also get underway at 1:30.

OWNER REFUSES TO SELL HOME TO WILLIE MAYS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays' attempt to buy a house here failed yesterday.

The 27-year old San Francisco Giants baseball centerfielder offered the $37,500 the owner asked for a new house on Miraloma Drive, but was turned down after a wait of several days. The owner said there was great neighborhood pressure against the deal, permitting a Negro to buy.

Walter A. Gnesdiloff, who is still offering the house at the same price—but not to Mays—said:

"I'm just a union working man and I'd never get another job if I sold this house to that baseball player. I feel sorry for him, and if the neighbors say it would be okay, I'd do it."

Mays Not Mad

Gnesdiloff, a small-scale builder and contractor, said two property owners he works for put pressure on him not to sell to Mays and neighbors objected by telephone.

"I've never been through this kind of stuff and I'm not even mad about it now," the normally exuberant Mays said last night.

"I'd sure like to live in San Francisco, but I didn't want to make an issue about it.

"I figure if a guy has his own problems he's got to lick them himself, and if neighbors don't want you, what's the good of buying," Mays continued.

"But talk about a thing like this goes all over the world, and it sure looks bad for our country."

"Lot Of Camouflage"

Mays' wife, Marghuerite, wasn't quite as philosophical about it. "Down in Alabama where we come from," she said, "you know your place, and that's something, at least. But up here it's all a lot of camouflage. They grin in your face and then deceive you."

The mayor said "it's not our practice to preclude anyone's living where he wants to, regardless of his race." But he pointed out that "on the other hand, no law requires an owner to dispose of his property."

One of the property owners Gnesdiloff said he worked for, Martin Gaewhiler, said "certainly I objected" to the sale.

Protect Other Property

"I happen to have quite a few pieces of property in that area and I stand to lose a lot if colored people move in."

Gaewhiler denied that Gnesdiloff had ever worked for him and said he didn't force the contractor to do anything. "I told him to use his own conscience, but that he'd get a bad name if he went through with this.

The property owner added, "I certainly wouldn't like to have a colored family near me."

Edward Howden, director of the Council for Civic Unity, commented:

"The shocking rejection of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Mays as neighbors by a handful of Miraloma Drive residents is nothing less than a civic disgrace. Regrettably it is typical of practices in a large portion of the private housing market today."

Cooper And Fraser Advance To Finals

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser today advanced to the finals of the New South Wales Men's Singles Tennis Championships.

Cooper won by default from Mervyn Rose, who was suffering from a heavy cold. Fraser beat Mal Anderson, the current U.S. champion, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4. All Americans had been eliminated in the earlier rounds.

In the semifinals of the women's doubles, the Australian pair of Lorraine Coghlan and Margaret Hellyer surprised by beating top seeded Angela Mortimer, Britain, and Mary Hawton, Australia, 6-4, 6-4.

Littlestown	3	1	1	7
Dallastown	2	3	0	4
Kennard-Dale	1	4	0	2
West York	0	4	1	1

Wednesday's Score

Susquehannock, 25; Littlestown, 7.

Littlestown muffed its opportunity to clinch the 1957 championship of the Laurel Football Conference when it was outplayed all the way in losing its final game of the season 25-7 to Susquehannock at Glen Rock Wednesday evening.

Susquehannock and Biglerville now share the co-championship with identical 4-1 league records. Last year Biglerville won the title outright.

The Warriors marched 55 yards for a score in the first period, the payoff being an eight-yard aerial from Terry Smith to Tuffy Sweeney in the end zone. Sweeney kicked the point.

Susquehannock went ahead 13-0 in the second quarter. The Warriors drove 82 yards only to fumble on the Littlestown 18. The Bolts quickly duplicated the fumble with Susquehannock recovering on the 17. A short time later Sweeney scored on a 14-yard pass play.

Makes Diving Catch

Littlestown's lone TD came with 90 seconds remaining in the first half. The Thunderbolts drove 85 yards, the big ground-gainer being a 32-yard run by Bobby Nester on a double reverse. On a fourth down situation a Littlestown pass was batted by the Susquehannock safety man but Jack Ketterman made a diving catch of the 14-yard toss in the end zone for the score. Ronnie Crouse added the point on a placement.

Neither team had the punch for a score in the third period but in the last quarter Susquehannock racked up two insurance tallies.

Early in the period the Warriors marched 39 yards, Smith racing over from the 8.

The finally tally came two plays later after Littlestown had received the ensuing kickoff. Jim Herbst snared a pass tossed by Darryl Bollinger and ran 20 yards into the end zone.

Coach Wib Gobrecht's Thunderbolts, who wound up their season with a 5-3-1 record, were given considerable trouble throughout the evening by the rugged line play of the Warriors which time and again stopped Bolt backs.

The lineups:

EASTERN LOOP CHIEFS TO MEET

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — The Class A Eastern Baseball League will hold its annual fall meeting in New York City Saturday, Thomas Richardson, league president, announced today.

Richardson added that he expects nothing definite on the future of the Schenectady, N.Y., franchise to come out of the fall meeting. Lancaster, Pa., has been mentioned as the probable choice for the Schenectady franchise if the New York State city is unable to field a team in the 1958 season.

The 34-year-old league, which operated with six teams last year, plans to expand to eight teams next season. Richardson said Williamsport, York, Allentown and Reading, Pa.; Binghamton and Albany, N.Y., and Springfield, Mass. are definitely set to operate.

Williamsport and York are the new franchises this year although both have had teams in the league previously. Schenectady lost its major league connections with the Philadelphia Phillies switched to Williamsport. St. Louis will operate the York team.

Richardson said he expects a decision on the eight franchise after the minor league convention in Colorado Springs, Colo., next month.

Says Fourth Of Nation's People Lost Time By Illness Since Middle Of Summer

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

CLEVELAND (AP)—At least one fourth of the nation's people have had to spend a day or more in bed since mid-summer because of severe colds, sore throat, Asian flu or similar upper respiratory ills, a report by a U. S. Public Health Service official showed today. There were 38 million so affected from mid-July to October.

Dr. William Stewart, assistant o the surgeon generalof USPHS lata on the Asian flu situation before the 85th annual meeting of the American Public Health Assn.

As to Asian flu alone, he said:

"The anticipated epidemics are now occurring in various parts of the country, particularly in the middle Atlantic and east north central states.

"Slight to moderate increases in mortality (that is, above normal seasonal rates) chiefly among older persons, have occurred in several places where epidemics are in progress."

He said that "future spread of the epidemic can be anticipated in essentially all parts of the country not now affected," and edded:

"A high national incidence can be expected to continue for a period of six to eight weeks. The Public Health Service urges that vaccination against influenza be promoted vigorously."

Stewart said some idea of the prevalence of Asian flu could be derived from reports obtained in connection with the national health survey, in which the Bureau of the Census interviewed a representative national sample of households for the Public Health Service.

38 Million Were Ill

The resulting estimates indicate, he said, that during the period from July 15 to October 5 there were an estimated 38 million people with acute respiratory diseases severe enough to cause them to go to bed.

Stewart said that during the week ended October 12, an estimated 8.5 million persons throughout the country had colds, sore throats, influenza or similar diseases severe enough to put them to bed. The average number of persons in bed each day that week as a result of these illnesses was about 3 million. A great many of these cases undoubtedly were Asian flu.

STATE CLOSES CASE AGAINST CHR. M'SORLEY

HARRISBURG (AP) — Suspended Turnpike Chairman G. Franklin McSorley began his defense today against state charges that he illegally kept a chauffeur on the Turnpike Commission payroll to perform no other duties than to drive for former Chairman Thomas J. Evans.

The commonwealth completed its case against McSorley yesterday with lengthy testimony from the chauffeur, Daniel J. Dalto.

Dauphin County Court Judge Homer L. Kreider said today's session would be brief because he has to attend a funeral later in the day. Dalto told the court yesterday that he drove for Evans between July 5, 1955, after Evans left the commission, and March 1, 1956.

Asked if he had done any work for the commission while assigned as Evans' chauffeur, Dalto replied: "None."

Drove To New York

"My instructions were to go with Mr. Evans as long as he wanted me," Dalto testified. "I drove him wherever he wanted to go. Anything he wanted me to do, I did."

On one occasion, Dalto said, he drove Evans to New York City for the 1955 World Series, where Evans was met by McSorley.

"McSorley asked me if I was doing all Evans wanted me to do," Dalto said. "He (McSorley) said if I did not, I had to answer to him."

Dalto also was questioned about a day of vacation entered for him for Jan. 9, 1956, the date a car driven by him was involved in an accident on the Northeastern Extension of the turnpike near Allentown. Evans's son, Richard, an official of the Manu-Mine Research and Development Co. of Reading, was killed in the accident.

The commonwealth contends the records were fixed to show Dalto on vacation that day in order to avoid explaining why a commission employe was driving an official of a private corporation.

Dalto testified that he had never applied for a vacation for that date.

STEVENSON AND DULLES CONFER ON NATO MONDAY

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration evidently hopes to limit partisan debate on some major foreign issues by bringing Adlai Stevenson into preparation of plans for next month's Allied summit conference in Paris.

The Democratic leader has accepted a bid from the Republican administration to come here next Monday and confer with Secretary of State Dulles. The State have tentative proposals for the NATO meeting worked out by that time.

The invitation to Stevenson and his acceptance were the latest moves in a cautious political and policy negotiation designed to revive bipartisanship in foreign affairs in the face of Russia's gains in military power.

May Balk Controversy

How well the effort will succeed in forestalling sharp party controversy when Congress returns in January depends mainly on two critical factors:

1. The extent to which President Eisenhower and Dulles consult with Stevenson in detail and accept his ideas in shaping their program.

2. The degree of support Stevenson can muster among Democratic leaders in Congress for any plans to which he may decide to commit himself.

Results of the Monday meeting —which could also lead to a talk between Steverson and Eisenhower—may show clearly how much bipartisan cooperation is to be expected.

Holds Rights To Criticize

Stevenson himself has clearly reserved his right to criticize any proposals with which he disagrees.

While the issues have not yet all been publicly stated by Eisenhower or Dulles, their known approach to the NATO summit meeting in mid-December makes it clear that they have in mind some radical propositions.

Eisenhower has already declared he would seek changes in the law to permit sharing atomic secrets with Allied nations.

The administration is also expected to ask for an increase in funds available, either as loans or grants, for aid to foreign countries.

The President is planning to advise the North Atlantic Allies that he is prepared to stockpile nuclear weapons in Europe for their use in event of war with Russia.

Letter To The Editor

Aspers R. 1, Pa.
November 13, 1957

Dear Editor:

Last evening in the chaste beauty of Christ Chapel on Gettysburg College Campus, music lovers were treated to the magnificent voice of Yi-Kwei-Sze.

As the beautiful, full, round liquid, bass-baritone took us spellbound through his impressive repertoire, we could not help but find ourselves in a most reflective mood.

Here in the chapel were several hundred Americans completely absorbed in the audial delight of a Chinese barn baritone. I said to my companion, "The world has a common denominator of nations —culture!"

All the world speaks the same language in music — in great masters, Mozart, Haydn, Brahms, Schumann, Strauss, Sibelius, Gilbert and Sullivan, Kern, and Gershwin, past and modern, all have given us an immortal moving beauty — a uniting speech. Art, literature, nature, all of these speak a universal language.

If only more of us would attend these concerts, we would find that it opens a whole new world. The children of our nation should be given more opportunity of knowing and loving these moving languages of uniting beauty.

Perhaps if there were more exchanges between the nations on a cultural level, exchanges that meet soul recognition above language barriers, above custom barriers, above idealogical barriers, perhaps where printed matter meets with blindness and spoken words meet with deafness; the beautiful — Only God-given, talents of musicians, artists, dancers, participants in all of the arts could speak a universal quieting and a finding that, after all, we all belong to the same family of man.

No doubt the next Community Concert in December will give more beauty, more reflection, through the beautiful medium of music—real music!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Richard Wayburn

HOPES TO AVOID PRIMARY FIGHT FOR GOVERNOR

HARRISBURG (AP) — James A. Finnegan, prominent Democratic leader and a member of Gov. Leader's cabinet, said today he thinks party leaders may be able to avoid a primary fight for the gubernatorial nomination in next spring's primary.

The secretary of commonwealth said he expects the Democratic state committee to meet for exploratory talks next month, about Dec. 15, and to hold a slatemaking session in January.

"We (party leaders) may be able to work things out before the primary," he said.

The Philadelphian, who with Richardson Dilworth and Joseph S. Clark led his party's surge ot dominance in formally Republican Philadelphia, added that he has found considerable support for Dilworth, now mayor, among the party's county chairmen.

Many Favor Dilworth

"The county chairmen I've talked ed with tell me they think Dick Dilworth would make an ideal candidate for governor," he said. "They consider him a strong vote getter and would be happy to see him as the candidate."

But Finnegan added that he would support whichever candidate the party chooses for the nomination.

Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman of Waynesburg has all but thrown his hat in the ring, claiming the support of a "substantial number" of the 67 county chairmen. Lewis M. Stevens, another Philadelphian, recently appointed state highways secretary, is another mentioned as a possible candidate.

Finnegan did not attempt to estimate the number of chairmen favoring Dilworth's candidacy.

The veteran Democratic leader, who managed Adlai Stevenson's presidential campaign in 195, said he was encouraged by the results of this month's state election returns. He gave a confident nod of his head when asked what he thought about the party's chances of retaining the governorship next year.

STATE HEALTH OFFICIAL DIES

READING, Pa. (AP)—Howard E. Moses, 82, director of the State Health Department's Division of Sanitary Engineering, died yesterday in Reading Hospital.

An employe of the Health Department since 1908, Moses was credited with a major role in development of the state's clean streams program.

He was chairman of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, a member of the quality of water committee of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin (incodel), a member of the technical committee of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin, and chairman of the Great Lakes and Upper Mississippi Board of Engineers.

He is survived by a daughter Mrs. Jean M. Wilkinson of Wyomissing. Moses made his home in Harrisburg.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Harrisburg.

Rain, Drizzle, Fog And Snow In U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's weather maintained its wet, dreary pattern today, with rain, drizzle, snow and fog dampening many sections of the country.

A broad belt of precipitation extended over most of the area from the easterr Plains to the Appalachians and during the day was expected to cover nearly all sections east of the Mississippi River.

Thunderstorms, with heavy rainfall, hit sections of the Gulf Coast states. Winds up to 60 m.p.h. lashed New Orleans during the night while at Tupelo, Miss., more than 2 inches of rain fell in a six-hour period.

Offices Move To Chambersburg

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Four regional offices of the U.S. Department of Labor move to Chambersburg, Pa., Feb. 1 from Philadelphia—but less than half of the present staffs will make the transfer.

John Francis Foy, in charge of the regional office of the Bureau of Employment Security and staff chairman of the other offices, said "20 professionals, those in charge of the programs and offices will make the shift while generally the clerical workers, the secretaries will remain behind."

Foy said the clerical workers will be absorbed in other federal jobs in the Philadelphia area.

In his own department Foy said seven will make the transfer while six won't.

The breakdown in the other offices:

Wage and Hour Public Contracts Division, 7 transfering, 14 remaining; Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training, 1 of 4 transferring; solicitor's office, 5 attorneys transferring with 3 remaining.

Foy said the only explanation officially given for the shift was that "it was in the interests of the United States Government."

Ike Says Defense Spending Must Be Increased And Some Other Programs Curtailed

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — President Eisenhower last night warned the cost of space age weapons means a "very considerable" boost in defense spending is coming and that Congress will have to face the tough task of cutting nonessential national programs.

He said Americans won't tolerate sacrificing security to the worship of a balanced budget.

This impending boost will mean sharp cuts in some nonmilitary spending programs in next year's budget to offset a part of the hike, he said.

May Eliminate Some

Some of these programs may have to be eliminated entirely, the President declared. He departed from his prepared text to add: "And pressure groups will wail in anguish."

In a nationwide television-radio address, the President also called for a stepped-up educational program of training scientists to meet the Russian threat. He suggested the program include such incentives as fellowship grants to provide more science teachers. But he did not go into detail on his suggestion.

He also called for greater concentration on basic research, saying "the warning lies in the fast rate of increase of the Soviet effort" in that field of science.

Sees Damage Ahead

Making the second of a series of "chins up" talks designed to bolster United States confidence in free world defense capabilities, Eisenhower said Russia's challenge is being met and will continue to be met.

He cautioned that the Soviet Union's recent achievements in development of weapons of the future mean "there is danger ahead for free men everywhere."

The President, addressing an overflow audience in the 6,000-seat Municipal Auditorium, recalled that Nazi dictator Hitler once boasted he would bury the free world.

Won't Repeat Mistakes

"Not enough people took him at his word," Eisenhower said in likening the situation then to the Russia threat today.

"We shall not make that mistake again," he declared.

After outlining some individual and specific defense costs, the President said: "There has been much discussion lately about whether Soviet technological break-throughs in particular areas may have suddenly exposed us to immediately increased danger.

"As I pointed out last week, this is not the case. But these accomplishments have provided us all with renewed evidence of Soviet competence in science and techniques important to modern warfare. We must, and do, regard this as a time for another critical re-examination of our entire defense system."

The President's talk here climaxed Oklahoma's 50th anniversary "arrows to atoms" celebration of its statehood. He headed back to Washington by plane immediately after the speech.

In his address, the President indicated some areas in which increased spending loomed:

1. The stepped-up dispersal of Strategic Air Command bases.

2. Improvements of the warning system for any possible enemy attack.

3. Development of an active missile defense against missiles.

4. Additional money where needed in the development of long-range missiles.

5. A pay raise for military personnel.

Of the U. S. satellite and missiles program, he said: "We intend to carry forward our programs in a way that will do credit to our scientific tradition and insure our security over the years ahead. This, again, will involve substantial costs.

Sneaky Commercials Ruled Out By Board

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — The National Assn. of Radio v Television Broadcasters code review board for TV asked stations yesterday not to use a method that flashes commercials to the viewers' subconscious.

The idea has created quite a furore. Don Martin, assistant to the president of NARTB, said that by this method a message is flashed at 1-3000th of a second, and repeated every five seconds during the showing of a movie. He said the viewer does not even see the message, or at least is not conscious of seeing it, but it does reach his brain.

The board held that "any proposal to use . . . 'subliminal perception' be referred to the board immediately for further review and consideration."

No Trace Of Big Plane In Week's Hunt

HONOLULU (AP)—It has been almost a week since Pan American's Stratocruiser Romance of the Skies vanished with 44 persons in the Pacific—and still no trace has been found.

A Pan American sister ship, reported spotting some debris late yesterday but the Coast Guard said it was of doubtful significance.

The carrier PPhilippine Sea continued an intensive search along the missing airliner's flight route.

'THE PROFESSOR' CALLED TODAY IN RACKETS PROBE

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—C. Don (The Professor) Modica, who witnesses say tutors gangsters' sons in mathematics and the social graces, was called today to testify about New York's garbage disposal rackets.

The special Senate committee investigating rackets announced it wants to quiz him about his associations with Albert Anastasia, the recently slain executioner for der, Inc., and with VViVnnt VV. (Jimmy) Squillante, alleged Mafia mobster, described as Anastasia's godson.

Anastasia's Son A Pupil

Witnesses have named Anastasia's son Umberto as one of Modica's pupils.

Committee counsel Robert F Kennedy said Modica and Squillante's brother Nunzio will be important witnesses about racketeering and gunplay in the 50 million dollar a year business of hauling garbage from business places and homes in the New York area. Vincent Squillante is scheduled to testify tomorrow.

The committee has heard testimony about murders, beatings and arson which Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) contends marked Vincent Squillante's rise to power as head of a veritable "business empire" in garbage rackets.

Shadowy Figure

Modica was described by Kennedy as a shadowy figure in underworld circles, a doctor of philosophy, and once a respected member of the New York University faculty. The committee has placed in evidence a staff report that Modica has a record of "convictions for grand larceny and other crimes" and serves as a tutor to children of big shots among crime "syndicate mobsters."

Kennedy named Modica as active in associations of garbage firms allegedly formed by Squillante and run by him with an iron hand to dominate the industry.

He said Nunzio Squillante will be asked about the testimony that he was one of his brother's chief "enforcers," and a Mafia member along with Vincent.

Three "Missing"

The committee announced it has received word from a lawyer promising to produce three of seven witnesses now listed as "missing." Kennedy said the three are James Rosetti, president of the Greater New York Cartmen's Assn.; Anne Daria, secretary of the association; and Genaro (Gerry) Mancuso, former executive of the Intercounty Cartmen's Assn., who may testify tomorrow.

The committee heard bitterly disputed testimony yesterday that Squillante forced the "rigging" of bids which inflated prices the government paid for garbage removal from Mitchel and Roslyn Air Force bases and housing developments that serve them.

Procrastinators' Club Takes It Easy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Procrastinators Club of America, dedicated to doing-it-later, has finally got around to crowning its 1956 queen.

She's 17-year-old Beth Swinand, who, like the other club members believes it's better to do tomorrow what you might have done today. Lester Waas, 37-year-old head of the club, says procrastination is relaxing, healthful and leads to success in life.

The club is planning a Christmas party — for April or thereabouts. Members postponed a decision on the exact date.

When you use fresh horseradish root be sure to pare off the brown outer skin. Then the horseradish may be grated and mixed with vinegar. Use canned beet juice, if you like, to color the grated horseradish red.

CAPEHART GIVES SUGGESTION FOR STANDBY POWER

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration gave a cool reception today to a proposal that Congress quickly enact a standby law providing wage, price, credit and rationing controls.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) suggested the action yesterday at a two-day conference of 1,200 businessmen-members of the National Defense Executive Reserve.

Government officials attending the sessions indicated clearly, however, the administration would neither recommend nor request the standby power.

"Won't Ask For It"

"Unquestionably the administration would accept standby authority if Congress voted it," one high mobilization official said, adding: "But we won't ask for it. This administration is committed to a policy of avoiding direct economic controls if possible."

He and others who commented along the same line declined to be quoted by name.

The reservists are business executives who have served in Washington and stand ready to return in event of mobilization.

Steam Out Of Inflation

Capehart told them that the perils now facing the country make it advisable to set up the legal framework for wartime economic regulation.

But Sen. Bennett (R-tah) said in an interview that "controls won't solve the problem."

"Every business man I have talked to agrees that the steam has gone out of inflation," he said.

Would Limit Spending

Bennett called instead for limited spending. He said that if more money is needed for missile development and other defense needs, as President Eisenhower said in a radio-TV talk last night, the extra amount ought to be shaved off other activities to prevent deficit spending.

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) said in a separate interview that if Congress permits the desire for a balanced budget to interfere with an all-out effort, this country is likely to lose the missile and satellite contests.

Eisenhower addresses the civilian reservists this afternoon. Vice President Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Defense McElroy and Secretary of Commerce Weeks spoke in yesterday's daylong sessions.

COTTON BOWL STARS ACTIVE

DALLAS (AP) — Stars of the first Cotton Bowl game 21 years ago are still building football reputations. Sam Baugh, quarterback of the TCU team that beat Marquette, 16-6, January 1, 1937, is coaching at Hardin-Simmons. Art Guepe, Marquette star that day, is coaching at Vanderbilt.

Dentist Is Sued $75,000 For Drill

LOGAN, W.Va. (AP) — Charles Frye Jr., who says he had to undergo surgery for removal of a dentist's drill which became disengaged and went down his throat has sued the dentist for $75,000.

The suit, filed yesterday in U.S. District Court, named Dr. A. F Winter of Logan, W.Va.

DETROIT (AP) — When the New York Rangers beat the Detroit Red Wings, 3-2, in Detroit's home opener, it marked the second time in 18 years that the Red Wings lost their first game at home. In 1955, Chicago's Black Hawks conquered the Wings, 3-2.

Jim Moore, San Jose State end, scored on a pass play covering 78 yards while playing for Fullerton Junior College.

HEALD ASSERTS SCIENTISTS NOT MADE BY MONEY

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—The federal government "cannot decree the study of science," Henry T. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation, said today.

"Perhaps it should not bribe people to do so," he said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Speaking 12 hours after President Eisenhower told the nation America must produce more scientists to keep pace with Soviet Russia's scientific advances, Heald said there is much discussion about the American lag in science and technology and "there will be scores of proposals, some good, some bad, to do something about it."

"Scientists cannot be made over night with any amount of money," he said. "They must be produced by the American school system. Curriculum decisions are made at the local level.

Inducement In High School

"A greater recognition of the importance of mathematics and science in the high schools will result in revision of requirements and procedures. This can be influenced by state superintendents."

The Council of Chief State School Officers is composed of the superintendents, or commissioners, of public education in the 48 states.

Heald said there are only a limited number of people in America equipped to be creative scientists. "We need to identify them and give them a chance to develop," he said.

CALENDAR FOR

set so that the judges would be one month in one county another month in another and so on. When the system for circuit judges ended and local judges were named, no charges were made in the dates for terms of court.

To Speed Justice

As a result of the change, persons involved in civil suits will be able to get into court faster. In the former system of having April and November terms, some had to wait seven months before their civil suits could be herd. Now there is only a five month interim between the May and October courts.

Civil cases have never been heard during August term of court, but by continuing the August term for criminal cases, "and moving the November term to October, there should be fewer criminal cases for the October court. Likewise, since there is only a five-month period from May to October there should not be such a large back log of civil cases for October and as a result we will avoid a jam up such as we have as the current term of November court," Judge Sheely said.

Raab Appointed

The new dates for terms of court were set after the Bar Association had studied the matter for some time to determine the dates which would be best for a regular flow of court cases through the year.

The court Wednesday also appointed Herbert G. Raab, Cumberland Twp., as tipstaff for the term to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Samuel Rhine.

In order to hear all the civil suits scheduled for the current term, Judge Chauncey Depuy, Chambersburg, will conduct trials in Adams County court starting Monday. Judge Sheely will preside at one trial while Judge Depuy will conduct court in another. The additional trials will be held in the law library.

Eisenhowers May Go To Augusta, Ga.

WASHINGTON (AP)— President and Mrs. Eisenhower hope to go to Augusta, Ga., tomorrow for a vacation lasting until about the middle of next week.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, announcing this today, said the vacation plans were still tentative but advised reporters to bring their suitcases when they come to the White House tomorrow.

The tentative plan calls for the President and his wife to leave by plane around noon.

WHERLEY RITES HELD

Funeral services for Elmer G. Wherley, 63, husband of Mrs. Mildred (Ickes) Wherley, who died at his home on W. Myrtle St., Littlestown, at 2 p.m. Monday, after two years of failing health, were conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the J. W. Little and Son Funeral Home, Littlestown. The Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Littlestown, officiated. Interment was in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown. Serving as pallbearers were Merle Breighner, Emory Snyder, Edward Leister, George Sneeringer, Norman Lemmon and Walter Shryock.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Council of Girl Scouts yesterday adopted a new constitution giving more powers to a board of directors.

The action came during the 34th National Girl Scout Convention.

The council consists of about 3,000 officers of Girl Scout units across the country. The board has 72 members.

BIG RED GABS AT COCKTAIL PARTY

MOSCOW (AP)— Nikita Khrushchev was in his best cocktail party form again last night, tossing off comments on a wide variety of topics. Some remarks of the Soviet Communist party boss:

"I know (the United States) doesn't have the kind of rockets we have and you won't have them soon."

President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and all other American leaders would be welcomed in Moscow "as dear friends."

Marshal Georgi Zhukov "did not turn out well as a political figure but as a military figure he was a remarkable man. . . ."

Big Red Apologizes

"Does anyone doubt" that Britain is a satellite of the United States? Khrushchev immediately apologized for this remark and said he was "ready to take it back."

Khrushchev and most important Soviet government leaders turned up at an Egyptian Embassy reception honoring Maj. Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, visiting Egyptian minister of war and joint commander of Egyptian and Syrian troops.

Khrushchev proposed a toast "to our armies—the armies of the Soviet Union, Egypt and Syria." Both the Egyptian and Syrian armies are armed and advised by Russia.

PRINCE CHARLES IS 9 YEARS OLD

LONDON (AP)—The future king of England got up in a windy dormitory at 7:15 on his 9th birthday today and went to school like any other boy.

His mother and father Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, told the headmaster at Cheam School that no exception should be made of their son.

It was Charles' first birthday away from the royal splendor of palaces and carpeted castles. He spent it at the boarding school 30 miles south of London where he was enrolled this fall.

Instead of a big shindig, he had lessons.

Rising in the half light just after a chilly dawn, Charles scrubbed himself and trotted off to chapel for prayers with the other boys.

Headmaster Peter Beck handed Charles his presents and greeting cards at the breakfast table. All week long a weighted-down country postman had been delivering them.

Then, with very little ado, Charles was hustled off to the classroom.

COUPLE WED IN

soloist Mrs. Bernard Frazer who sang "Panis Angelicus," "Ave Maria," "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Lord, I am not Worthy" during the ceremony.

Bridal Gown

Mrs. Guarneschelli wore a floor length gown of pale ivory silk mist fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves, a basque waist and bouffant skirt ending in a short train. The bodice had embroidered Alencon lace edging and neckline. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of tiny seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Two Bridesmaids

The maid of honor was Miss Eleanor Jacobs, sister of the bride, who wore a gown of gold velveteen, featuring a high scoop neckline, short sleeves and flared skirt. A satin cummerbund, tied in a bow in the back, with long streamers, highlighted the gown. She wore a matching velveteen crown with a circular tulle veil and carried a colorial bouquet of rust and gold pompons and rust chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Gwen Jacobs, cousin of the bride, and Miss JoAnn Sherman, both of Gettysburg, who wore gowns of Dior blue, styled like that of the maid of honor. They carried identical bouquets of colonial design of yellow mums and bronze and yellow pompons.

The best man was Stephen W. Jacobs, brother of the bride, and the head ushers were Raphael Redding and Leo A. Staub, both of Hanover, uncles of the bride. Assisting them were Arnold Lucas and Bert Timons of New York, friends of the groom.

William Yantis, McSherrystown was the ring bearer and the flower girl was Rita Marie Cole, Gettysburg, who wore a princess style dress of cognac velveteen with short sleeves and Peter Pan collar. She carried a colonial basket of bronze and yellow pompons and wore a matching headband of fall flowers.

James and Thomas Sneeringer, Gettysburg, served as altar boys.

Reception At Hotel

The mother of the bride wore a sable brown silk faille dress with matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. The groom's mother wore a dress of blue taffeta with matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held at the Hotel Gettysburg immediately following the ceremony after which the bridal couple left on a wedding trip to an unannounced destination. For her going-away outfit the bride wore a blue tweed suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. Upon their return they will reside at 8 South Hanover St., Carlisle, Pa.

Mrs. Guarneschelli is a graduate of Delone High School, McSherrystown, in 1953 and of Dunbarton College of Holy Cross, Washington, D. C., in 1957. She is presently employed by the Beneficial Finance Company of Carlisle.

The bridegroom attended Georgia University and graduated with class honors from Gettysburg College in 1954. He served two years in the United States Army, 16 months of which were spent in Korea during which time he was promoted to first lieutenant. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He played varsity basketball. He is in his second year at the Dickinson School of Law in Carlisle.

Guests were present from McSherrystown, Hanover, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., and New York state.

ASSISTANCE BD.

Mrs. Myers gave a monthly report to the board on the assistance load currently being carried in this county showing that there are 10 less assistance cases now than a year ago but 15 more people are receiving help. Compared with a month ago there is one less case and five less people at present than when the October report was made.

The board meets next December 11. In addition to Chairman Held and Mrs. Myers, these directors attended: Mrs. J. Kermit Hereter, Mrs. Donald Noel, Evan M. Appler, Clyde Kennedy and Mr. Stauffer.

Miss Rae Lehman, field representative from the state Department of Public Assistance, also attended the dinner meeting.

Sheboygan And Gatlinburg Citizens Are Not Worried About Russia's 2 Sputniks

Editor's Note — How does the average American feel about having a couple of Russian moons in space? Worried? Confident that we will do as well, or better? Top AP reporters took samplings in two average cities in widely separated parts of the country. Here's what they found.

By SAUL PETT

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Nov. 14 (AP) —The people in this industrial community of 45,000—"The wurst city in the world," as sausage fans know it — read about, talk about, wonder about Soviet satellites, but there is little sign of deep concern.

Mention Sputnik in Sheboygan and the first reaction is a broad grin and frequently a joke.

Among many people, there is a refusal to admit that the United States is really behind the Russians in outer space or, if it is, that it will stay behind long.

"I think we're catching up with them but we're just not letting it out," said Mrs. August Miller, pretty brunette waitress at the Hotel Foeste.

"Haven't Been Licked"

"After all, this is the United States. We haven't been licked yet. Sure, the Russians are smart. But what it took them five years to make, we'll probably make in a year."

This same idea—that America is close to or even ahead of the Soviets in guided missile development but won't say so for security reasons—was expressed, also, by a lawyer, electrician and banker.

Is there a special female reaction?

"I just haven't thought about it much," said Joyce Menice, saleswoman at Rudnick's jewelry store "Other women I know don't talk about it. I think it's more a man's subject."

Said Mrs. Arthur Schildbach, a housewife, while buying ribbons in a gift shop: "Oh, yes, I read about it—and how they're naming hamburgers and drinks and other things after Sputnik. But I don't think or worry about it. After all, you vote your government in. Let them take care of it. They get paid for it, after all."

By RELMAN MORIN

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP) — A full moon hung in the sky like a big silver ball over the Great Smoky Mountains the other night. The driver switched off the lights of the bus for a moment and drove easily in the white brilliance.

"Biggest moon I ever saw," he said. 'You suppose it's ours?"

The passengers in the bus laughed. A man said: "I'll bet ours will be twice that big when we get it going." The conversation ended there.

When the average man in the South speaks about the Russian satellites at all today — and you don't hear much talk of them—he is more likely to joke than to express anxiety or outright fear.

Stirs Curiosity

Sputnik has stirred curiosity certainly, some awe over the thought of man-made objects whirling in space but no great alarm.

For one thing, the military implications apparently are by no means widely understood. At a cigar counter in Gainesville, Ga., a few days ago, a man was saying: "They've got a gadget whizzing around out there somewhere. So what? Are they oing to bomb us tomorrow? I don't see the connection."

A local situation frequently colors the attitude of the people. For instance, in the whole region around the national laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., one of the centers of atomic research, the man on the street plainly reflects the attitude of scientists and technicians working nearby.

Impressed By Dog

"I'm glad the Russians did it," said a man from Kingsport, Tenn. He went on to say that, in his opinion, American scientists have not been given the unhindered opportunity to develop research projects.

In a curious way, the fact the Russians put a dog inside Sputnik II seems to have impressed people in this region more than the fact that they succeeded in getting the bigger satellite into its orbit.

"Think of that poor dog," said a Gatlinburg housewife. "That's a cruel thing to do."

Lacrosse is the national game of Canada.

Taneytown

TANEYTOWN — Mr. and Mrs. John Messler and Mrs. Adelaide Englar, of York, will spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fair and family, Emmitsburg Rd.

The Sewing Deeds of Kindness Club of Emmanuel United Church of Christ will meet with Mrs. Denton Wantz, Tyrone, Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Naylor, E. Baltimore St., were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Naylor's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ott, Smithsburg, Md. The occasion was the birthdays of Mrs. John Martin and daughter, Frances, of Ringgold, Md.

An organ recital will be given in Emmanuel Church of Christ, at Baust Church, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock by James Allan Dash. There will be group singing and movies. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hesson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wentz, Lineboro, Md.

Miss Mary Fringer, W. Baltimore St., entertained the Sewing Club at a luncheon at Taney Inn today.

The Misses Amelia and Elizabeth Annan, E. Baltimore St., have returned home from a two-weeks visit with their cousins, Miss Elizabeth and O. A. Harner, South Kent, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell returned to their home today in Tampa, Tex., after spending 10 days with Mrs. Russell's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Thurlow Null, near Harney.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wantz, E. Baltimore St., with Mrs. Wantz's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Witherow, of Winston Salem, N. C., spent five weeks touring in the Southwest and two weeks in Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Wantz returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rosenberry, of Gettysburg, are visiting Mrs. Rosenberry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Van Fossen, Uniontown Rd. Mrs. Rosenberry is convalescing from a recent illness.

A surprise birthday party was held Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bollinger, R. 1, honoring the 17th birthday of their twin daughters, the Misses Evelyn and Doris. There were games and dancing. They received many gifts. Refreshments were served to the following guests: Barbara Ohler, Lois Hahn, Shirley Koontz, Frances Groshon, Marion Michea, Carroll Myers, Elaine Harner, Kitty Gartrell, Jeannie Haines, Jane Perry, Lois Brown, Doris Corbin, Pearl Bollinger, Harold Corbin, Junior Wantz, George Crouse, John Reever, David Bair, Ronald Welker, Eddie Koons, Lewis Baer, Larry Little, Kenneth Crouse, Walter Simpson, David Gunther, Bob Clingan.

The following men represented Trinity Lutheran Church Tuesday evening at the fall dinner meeting of the Central District of United Lutheran Church Men held in Kreider's Church near Westminster: Herbert Bowers, Franklin Fair, James Fair, Leon Fritz, Sterling Fritz, Elwood Harner, Loy Hess, Wilbert Hess, the Rev. Stanley B. Jennings, David R. Miller, George Naylor, Wilbur Naylor, William Naill, Wilmer Naill, Hubert Null, Merle S. Ohler, Wallace Reindollar and Birnie Staley. Herbert Bowers is a treasurer of the Central District.

Mrs. Stanley B. Jennings entertained recently several Lutheran pastors' wives of Carroll and Frederick Counties at the parsonage. Plans were made for the annual spring meeting of the Maryland Synod Pastors' Wives Conference. Mrs. Jennings is in charge of the conference to be held at the Lutheran Seminary in Gettysburg.

Salute After Record Flight

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay salutes honor guard at Ezeiza airport in Buenos Aires, Argentina, after flight from Westover AFB, Mass. Trip of 6,350 miles was record non-stop, no refuelling flight in KC135 tanker in background. At his right is U. S. Ammbassador Willard Beaulac. Argentine air force officers flank them.

There is nothing that can throw a popular coed for a loss like having skin trouble on the night of a big party.

It may be a full-scale breakout over all the face.

It may be a few pimples or blackheads.

Or perhaps it is chapped lips that cause her to feel she doesn't know why it had to happen to her.

But sometimes the effect is to ruin her entire evening, even after weeks of plans.

A girl who has had the experience of having her skin break out at some crucial moment should avoid food and makeup to which she is sensitive for days before a big event. A dirty powder puff is a prime offender too, and the girl with skin trouble should make sure she uses a fresh cotton puff in her compact each day.

The skin should be cleaned carefully too, as delicate skins often may be allergic to a brand of soap that is too alkali or the harsh abrasiveness of a turkish towel. Sometimes it is best just to pat the skin dry with a soft cloth.

Temperature Change

Cold weather isn't the only cause of chapped lips, one reason why we may be caught unaware during a brisk autumn and before a big social season. The dryness, cracking and parching that leaves your lips uncomfortable and lipstick impossible to apply, may come from any temperature change. Lips have no perspiration glands, the experts remind us, so they have no means of supplying their own moisture, one reason why a dry lipstick may feel particularly comfortable in fall.

It's a good idea to start using a chap stick early in fall, continuing it through the winter when you spend a good deal of time outdoors. A thin layer of lip balm may be applied before your lipstick to help keep lips moist regardless of the type of lipstick worn. At night when all traces of lipstick are removed with suds or cream, apply lip balm before going to bed, particularly for a week or so before a big date.

Some girls like to apply these little camphorated sticks at heels and elbows to keep those areas from becoming rough, red and chapped. These areas should be worked on long in advance of the party if you are planning to wear evening clothes. Scrub elbows and heels with a complexion brush, soap and water. Dry thoroughly, then apply smoothing lip balm.

Cooking chicken? Save the liver and cook in a little butter, then mash fine with a fork. Add the mashed liver to the stuffing for deviled eggs along with salt, pepper, salad dressing.

You can toast sesame seeds by putting them in a heavy skillet, covering it, and shaking the pan over low heat.

Mix cream cheese with bits of anchovies, turn into a small bowl and refrigerate. When firm, shape into a ball and roll in minced parsley. Nice to serve with crisp crackers and tomato juice for a first course.

Cooking liver and bacon? Cook the bacon first, then use half-bacon fat and half-butter for sauteeing the liver.

LEGAL NOTICE
ORDINANCE NO. 55-10
AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE TRIMMING OF TREES

WHEREAS, the Borough authorities of the Borough Council of the Borough of Fairfield, Adams County, Pennsylvania, recognize the beauty, healthfulness and general advantage of the maintenance of trees on, along, or overhanging public highways; and desiring to keep them trimmed for public convenience and safety and for the adequate lighting of the public thoroughfares, thus necessitating the trimming of such trees for the greater usefulness and safety of the general public, NOW, THEREFORE,

Section 1. The Borough Council is hereby authorized and directed to cause all trees at, in, along or overhanging highways, to be trimmed by a person or persons, firm or corporation, so that no branch thereof shall extend into or over the sidewalk or highway a distance of twelve (12) feet above the surface thereof; and shall so trim trees that they shall not obstruct the street lighting or interfere with the wiring or of the proper maintenance of public utilities. The cost of such trimming shall be borne by the Borough except where the work is specially required to protect and maintain utility wires, or street lighting, in which case the cost shall be borne by such utility.

Section 2. Where it is necessary to enter upon private property in order to accomplish the said trimming, the work shall be done so as to comply with any reasonable requirements of the owner or tenants.

Section 3. Where the owner of the abutting property desires to undertake to keep the trees trimmed, in accordance with this ordinance, and notifies Council to that effect, the Council shall give consideration thereto.

Section 4. The Borough may also cause to be removed any trees in the highways which obstruct traffic, street lighting, or are inconvenient or dangerous to the passing public.

Section 5. The trimming and removal of trees is a governmental public service on the part of the Borough and shall not be considered a liability for performance or non-performance.

Enacted and Ordained this 4th day of November, A. D., 1957.

President Returns To Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower flew back to the capital early today after an Oklahoma City speech in which he told the nation defense spending must be increased in the face of Russian scientific advances.

Eisenhower was wearing a topcoat and a gray homburg hat as he left his plane to enter a limousine for the drive to the White House. He did not appear to have slept.

"My goodness," he told them smilingly, "you boys are really ambitious."

NATO PLANNING PLATFORMS FOR NUCLEAR WORK

PARIS (AP)—NATO's aeronautical research director said today the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is studying plans to build aerial platforms for the launching of nuclear missiles.

These, Dr. Theodore von Karman told a news conference, would be in addition to the submarine nuclear platforms whose production U.S. Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) urged yesterday.

Jackson told the newsmen today the United States is going ahead with development of a nuclear-powered intercontinental ballistic missile. He said it would be a one-stage rocket and more efficient than chemically propelled missiles after 2,000 miles.

"Sputnik Is Ally"

Von Karman, former chief scientific adviser to the U.S. Air Force and now director of NATO's aeronautical research and development program, said plans for aerial launching platforms are still only preliminary. He said the underwater ones — using atomic submarines — are not envisaged before 1960.

Von Karman said France's "Flying Atar"—a weird hovering aircraft—could serve as a prototype for the sky launchers.

NATO Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak opened today's session of the NATO Parliamentary Assembly with a speech saying the Soviet Sputnik "is NATO's most powerful ally and I am very grateful to the Russians for launching it."

Spaak said the satellite put new life into the 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance.

Army Recruiter Commits Suicide

He was Sgt. John Douglas. His parents live in Williamsport, Pa., authorities said.

Deputy Sheriff Ralph Jackson said Douglas apparently shot himself with a .25 caliber Beretta revolver. A note describing financial troubles and difficulty in properly caring for his family was found in the room, Jackson said.

Douglas lived here with a 16-year old son. His wife, who was thought to be hospitalized in Dallas, lived in Paris, Tex., with a 6-year-old daughter.

Party On Friday

The annual pre-Thanksgiving party held for the public by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Alpha Fire Company No. 1 will take place at the engine house, Friday evening starting at 8 o'clock. All turkeys will be given as prizes. Refreshments will be available, including sandwiches and soft drinks.

Sunday is the deadline for making reservations to attend the annual father and son banquet of Grace Lutheran Church, Two Taverns, to be held in the parish hall on Friday, November 22, at 7 p.m. Reservations may be made with James Strevig, Charles Helwig or Richard Meyer.

A briefing session for members of St. John's Lutheran Church who will assist with the Ever Member Canvass will be held at the church, tomorrow at 7:30 o'clock. The annual Ever Member Canvass will take place on Sunday afternoon and the canvassers will be commissioned at the morning worship service.

Legion Plans Smoker

Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, will hold a smoker on Friday, 8 p.m., at the post home, E. King St. Tickets are $1.50 each and may be secured from any Legionnaire. The committee in charge of general arrangements consists of Elmer W. M. Duttera, Ralph R. Ruggles Jr., Paul E. Altoff, Lawrence T. Crouse, Claude Snyder and Guy L. Conover. Details for the affair will be discussed at the regular post meetting this evening at 8 o'clock.

St. Aloysius Catholic Church will sponsor its weekly public party on Saturday, 8 p.m., and also its annual pre-Thanksgiving party this evening at 8 o'clock, in the parish hall. Turkeys and ducks will be given as prizes tonight. Refreshments will be available at both parties.

The anniversary banquet for members of the Carroll-Adams Riding Club, Inc., will take place at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the Kingsdale Fire Company hall near town. Dr. James Martin, Gettysburg, veterinarian, will be the guest speaker. Charles Harner will be the toastmaster. The meal will be served by the Kingsdale Auxiliary. A dance, open to the public, will follow the banquet program from 9 to 12 o'clock. Music will be provided by Art Taylor and his orchestra Westminster. Tickets are $1.50 each. There will be both prizes and surprises at the banquet and dance.

GARCIA RUNNING MATE IS LOSING

After a brief decline yesterday, Macapagal again was running well ahead of Jose B. Laurel Jr., Garcia's Nacionalista party running mate. Returns from strong Nacionalista provinces indicated widespread ballot splitting.

Latest unofficial tabulations gave Macapagal 909,065 votes to Laurel's 662,904. Other vice-presidential candidates were out of the running but the race between the two leaders was still not conceded.

These were the latest presidential returns: Garcia 856,156; Jose Yulo, Liberal, 566,156; and Manual P. Manahan, Progressive, 432,415.

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — A pickup truck killed a 70-year-old widow last night as she left a bus on the West Chester pike near her home.

She was Mrs. Cecilia Blosenski of Green Lane, three miles east of here. She was dead on arrival at Chester County Hospital.

REBELS BURN CROPS IN CUBA

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Soldiers of rebel leader Fidel Castro, putting the torch to sugar cane fields and tobacco warehouses in an attempt to bring down President Fulgencio Batista, were estimated today to have burned crops worth nearly 2½ million dollars.

So far the dent in Cuba's economy was negligible. Qualified sources said the rebels had fired about a third of 1 per cent of Cuba's 3,200,000 acres of cane.

Castro's band of about 600 guerrillas and their supporters reportedly had started 54 big fires in the last four days. All centered around approaches to the rebel leaders hideout in the Sierra Maestra Mountains of easternmost Oriente province.

Other fires have been set in the western province of Pinar del Rio, sources said, and more than 50 tobacco warehouses have been burned there.

SOME STOCKS GAIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircraft, missile and rocket fuel stocks surged ahead as the stock market rose in early trading today.

Leading issues were ahead from fractions to around 2 points following President Eisenhower's proposal for more military spending.

The ticker tape was a minute behind transactions for about six minutes as buy orders piled up. The favored stocks were traded in big blocks.

After the first heavy wave of buying, trading fell off to a fairly active pace and some gains were trimmed.

BREAK IN SEWER ENDANGERS NINE SEATTLE HOMES

SEATTLE (AP)—Seventy-five persons were evacuated today as a gaping hole 60 feet deep opened in a North End boulevard and threatened to swallow nine homes and an apartment house.

The ugly black crater, the stubby ends of broken water, gas and sewer pipes jutting from its sides, was 150 feet long and 75 feet wide.

At one point the lip of the hole was only nine feet from the foundation of one of the threatened homes.

The hole, caused by a break in a sewer 145 feet under Ravenna Blvd., nearly doubled in size in a few minutes. The edge crumbled away at the rate of about a foot a minute.

Homes Are Flooded

The dirt was being sucked into the sewer.

Fifty persons evacuated at the orders of police were residents of the nine homes and the five-unit apartment house directly threatened by the hole. The others lived in homes flooded by backed up sewers.

The hole is a few blocks north of the University of Washington.

City officials said the trunk sewer could have broken years ago, with the underground hole gradually growing until the great mass above collapsed.

Stiff Competition Confronts Banks

READING, Pa. (AP)—Carl Bimson, president of Valley National Bank of Phoenix, Ariz., told Pennsylvania bankers last night banks are facing stiff competition in money lending from credit unions and personal loan companies.

"Even if the loan totals are high and the demand for money is great, you still need to encourage a consumer to look to you for credit," Bimson told a conference of the Pennsylvania Bankers Assn here.

Bimson, who is chairman of the Installment Credit Commission of the American Bankers Assn., said credit unions had a greater dollar amount in personal loans outstanding as of last July 31 than all of the nation's commercial banks.

O. Albert Johnson of Smethport, association president, said Pennsylvania banks had set a record high in loans. Pennsylvania banking assets were exceed only by New York, California and Illinois, Johnson said.

LINK TWO FIRMS IN BANKRUPTCY

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—A key figure pleaded the 5th Amendment yesterday as a business financing firm sought to link a Bloomsburg, Pa., firm in bankruptcy proceeding against the Farmers Exchange of Lakewood, N. J.

Eugene A. Deutsch of Deal, N.J., and New Rochelle, N. Y., who has been desribed in prolonged proceedings here as the head of both the Farmers Exchange and of Toledo Bros., Bloomsburg, refused to answer a number of questions before Federal Bankruptcy Referee William Lipkin.

The hearings continue today.

Charge $170,000 Forgery

Deutsch in previous sessions had declined to say whether he was an officer of either firm. He has been permitted to plead the 5th Amendment against self-incrimination in connection with a Monmouth County indictment charging forgery of $170,000 worth of delivery slips and trade acceptances for the bankrupt Farmers Exchange.

Walter E. Heller Co., New York and Chicago, which brought the bankruptcy proceedings, says that it lent more than a million dollars to the Farmers Exchange. It contends some of the money was turned over to Toledo Bros., a wholesale egg supplies, and that the two firms are actually one organization.

Deutsch testified yesterday that both firms were near bankruptcy in 1939 and that egg supply contracts obtained by him with the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. had put both back on their feet. He said he got the contracts through a New York cosmetics manufacturer, Maurice Handman, although he later found he could have dealt directly with the food chain.

Deutsch is free on $25,000 bond on the Monmouth County charges.

X-rays were first discovered in 1695 by Wilhelm Konrad Roentgen, a German physicist.

LEADER URGES IKE SUPPORT

HARRISBURG (AP)—The nation should "close ranks, put aside partisanship and back the President in this time of emergency," Gov. Leader said in a speech to a cattlemen's group yesterday.

He said Russia's launching of its earth satellites has put the U.S. in serious trouble.

"We now realize that Soviet Russia can no longer be sold short as a scientific competitor," Leader declared.

The nation should be prepared to foot a heavier tax bill, he said and to "stop treating basic research as the stepchild of national defense."

Pointing out that Russia has been "producing more scientists and engineers than we, and training them at least as well," Leader further urged a "crash program of higher education."

"America must meet this challenge in the classroom—and meet it quickly," he told the group.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Claude U. Stone, 78, onetime U.S. representative in Congress and former editor and publisher of the Peoria Star, died yesterday. He was elected to the House in 1910 and served three terms. He was editor of the Star from 1938 to 1949 when he resigned because of illness.

LONGMEADOW, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Laurence Locke Doggett, 92, president emeritus of Springfield (Mass.) College, died yesterday. He became president of Springfield, then the International Y.M.C.A. College, in 1896 and retired in 1935. He was born in Manchester, Iowa.

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Clinton N. Mackinnon, 68, professor emeritus of English at Ohio University, died yesterday. He was a member of the faculty from 1912 until his retirement in 1955. He was born in Boston.

URGES ATOMIC SUBS FOR NATO NAVIES QUICKLY

PARIS (AP)—NATO's naval commander, U. S. Adm. Jerauld Wright, Wednesday urged U. S. nuclear secrecy be modified to help equip all NATO navies with atomic submarines.

He added that NATO countries could equip themselves without receiving U. S.-built subs if Congress would amend the McMahon Act to make more nuclear know-how available.

Huge Red Fleet

Wright told a closed session of the Assembly that the Soviet Union's submarine fleet is three times as big as that of the United States and Allies combined.

The Russians are known to have about 500 submarines and the number is increasing by 75 to 100 a year.

The mission of allied submarines now is to try to knock out Soviet subs if there is a war, Wright said.

The admiral was the last of NATO's top military men to brief 170 congressmen and Parliament members from the 15 NATO countries.

Urges Pentomic Structure

George Brown, defense expert in the British Labor party's "Shadow Cabinet," told the Assembly that NATO members should remodel their armies in the pentomic structure used by the United States.

He said the new organization being adopted by the Americans "is based on a proper appreciation of the way to deal with the threat of atomic attack without dispersing so far as to weaken the power to resist on the ground."

The U. S. Army has announced that all its divisions will be organized along the new lines by the end of this winter. The pentomic division has five self-sustaining units instead of the old regiments, and is about a fourth smaller than the former division.

Brown also called for standardization of conventional and nuclear weapons used by NATO nations.

Expressing confidence that Europeans would support the use of tactical nuclear weapons if they are needed, Brown declared: "I believe they are more realistic than many give them credit for. But for God's sake tell them and give them the chance."

U. S. Sen. Green (D-RI) chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told an American Club luncheon that all the Western powers could pay more for defense and probably would have to.

Now on a tour of all 15 NATO countries, the Senate's 90-year-old dean said he was "disturbed by what seems to me to be an incipient erosion of the NATO military effort."

FLY TO MANILA IN 17 HOURS

MANILA (AP) — Three U. S. Air Force twin-jet B bombers swept into the Philippines Wednesday after nonstop flight from the U. S. West Coast.

The Air Force said the flight from George Air Force Base, Calif., made in just over 17 hours, was part of an operation to show it can deliver a tactical striking force to help nip brush-fire wars anywhere in the world.

A spokesman said the 8,000-mile nonstop trip was a record for B66s, which can carry atomic weapons. The flight refueled in the air off Hawaii.

The B66s are the vanguard of 47 jet fighter and bombers being moved from various U.S. bases to Pacific points in an operation called "Mobile Zebra."

Thirty-one planes are coming to the Philippines and 16 others will stop at Guam.

The average speed was about 530 miles an hour, Clizbe said. The three-man light bomber is rated in the 600-700 mile an hour class.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Department of Health Wednesday reported three more influenza-connected deaths in Philadelphia, bringing to 21 the city's total since the start of a flu outbreak here in the last week of September.

Five deaths blamed on flu had been reported in Philadelphia prior to the fall epidemic.

Including the three newly reported Philadelphia deaths, the Pennsylvania total now stands at 114.

CONFIDENTIAL, WHISPER WILL QUIT EXPOSES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Confidential and Whisper magazines have decided to retire from the "expose" field. And, in a development apparently related to this decision, they have won dismissal of one of the conspiracy charges brought against them.

The magazines announced in newspaper ads on Tuesday that they will "eliminate expose stories on the private lives of celebrities," beginning with the March, 1958, issue of Confidential and the April, 1958, issue of Whisper.

The ads said the magazines "never felt that such stories violated any laws," but nevertheless agreed on the format change with the state attorney general and county district attorney.

"We are confident," the magazines said, "that our millions of readers will find the new format interesting and exciting."

Dismiss Conspiracy

After the ads appeared in print, Superior Court Judge H. Burton Noble dismissed a charge of conspiracy to commit criminal libel brought against 11 individuals and 3 corporations connected with the publication of Confidential and Whisper. The prosecution did not object.

A two-month trial of the case ended last summer with a jury deadlocked 7-5 for conviction.

Still before the court is the question of whether Confidential and Whisper magazines were guilty of conspiracy to publish obscene matter. This was another of the charges in a grand jury indictment.

Judge Noble has indicated he will rule on this Dec. 3.

Among those involved in the dismissal action were Confidential publisher Robert Harrison of New York City and Fred and Marjorie Meade, who operated Hollywood Research, Inc., a listening post on the West Coast for Confidential and Whisper.

REPORT SPUTNIK DOG ON EARTH

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—The dog aboard Sputnik II probably has been brought back to the earth alive but the Russians aren't talking about it because of military implications, the president of the International Astronautical Federation said Tuesday night.

Andrew G. Haley of Washington, D. C., said he based his belief partly in the difference in the radio code pattern of the two Russian satellites.

Sputnik I gave out signals until its battery wore down, he said. The beeping from the larger Sputnik II ended sooner and suddenly, as if connections were broken or instruments destroyed by the ejection of the dog.

Haley, who spoke at Gonzaga University on a lecture tour, did not spell out the military implications.

RESTAURANT IS ROBBED OF $486

MOORESTOWN, N. J. (AP)—Four robbers locked four employes in a refrigerator room at a Howard Johnson restaurant on the New Jersey Turnpike near here Wednesday and fled with $486.

Police said the robbers apparently entered the restaurant about 1 a.m. though a delivery door and were not seen by customers in the main portion of the building.

The intruders had silk stockings pulled over their faces, distorting their features. They had on mechanics' coveralls.

They accosted Miss Edna Weber, the restaurant manager, and three other workers in the kitchen. Miss Weber was forced at gunpoint to open a safe in an office adjoining the kitchen and the money was taken.

The four employes then were forced to enter the walk-in refrigerator and the robbers piled cases of canned goods against the outside of the closed door.

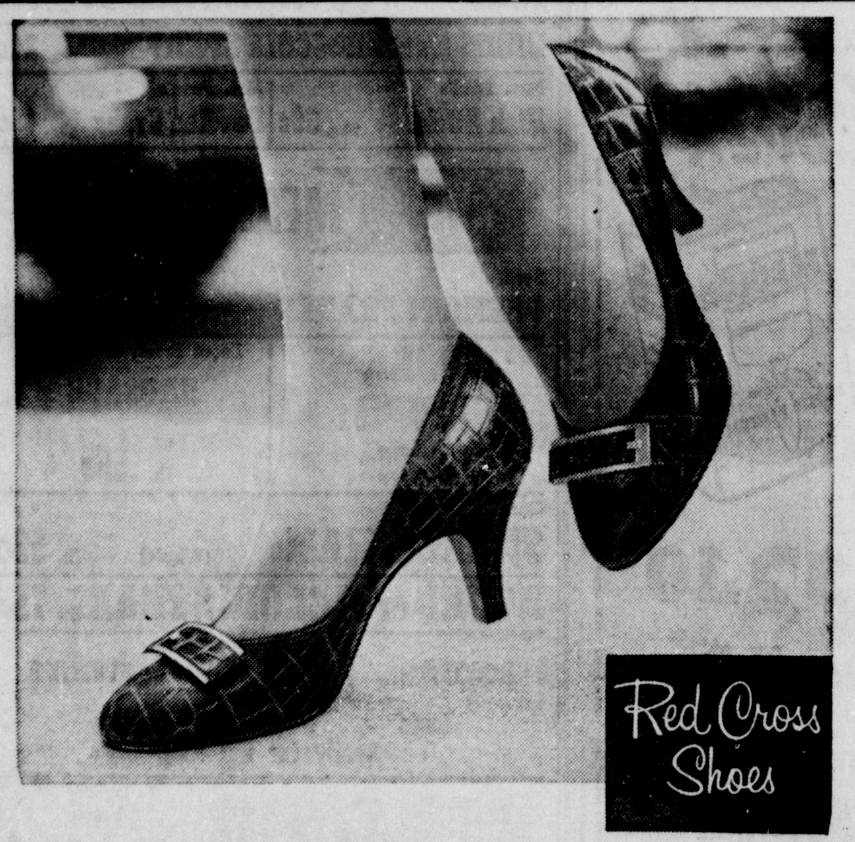

The four victims managed to push the door open, using an inside catch release.

Say 2nd Russian Satellite May Circle Earth For Year

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. scientists say that Russia's second satellite may continue circling the earth for a year or more.

Some earlier thought among scientists at the Naval Research Laboratory was that the half-ton Sputnik II might plunge earthward earlier than Sputnik I. There have been predictions the first satellite, orbit Dec. 11.

The scientists said Sputnik II is apparently slowing down more gradually than they previously believed.

We're Pretty Close

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the U.S. space satellite program, Project Vanguard, said American scientists are "now pretty close" to asking that the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., be cleared for firing the first U. S. satellite test sphere.

Announced American plans call for launching small test spheres next month and firing the first fully developed satellite in March.

A spokesman for the Grand Central Rocket Co., Mentone, Calif., said his firm was notified by the Navy Tuesday night that the first U. S. test satellite, a sphere 6.4 inches in diameter, would go aloft Dec. 1.

No Exact Date

In Washington, the Navy said no exact date has been set, although it said it still plans firings next month.

The first Soviet satellite was launched Oct. 4. The second one was sent up Nov. 3 with a small dog aboard. Radio equipment on both satellites now is dead and the dog, Laika, is believed to have died inside Sputnik II.

Moscow radio said last night that Russian scientists are sure Laika "was quite well and comfortable to the end." One Russian who took part in the dog's preflight training said there was no intention of returning Laika to earth.

At the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., officials said analyses of sighting reports indicate there may be five objects whirling around the globe.

They said three of these objects have been associated with Sputnik I—the primary satellite, its carrier rocket and possibly the rocket's nose cone.

Observatory astronomers also said there have been a number of reliable sightings of a second object related to Sputnik II.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director of the observatory, declined to speculate whether the second object sighted with Sputnik II might be the result of a bungled effort to return Laika to earth in its container.

Speed Decreasing

Dr. Paul Herget, a consultant to Project Vanguard, who also is director of the Cincinnati Observatory, placed Sputnik II's speed as of Nov. 7 at 103.586 minutes per trip around the earth. He said that speed is decreasing at the rate of only .00275 minutes per trip.

John T. Mengel, Project Vanguard's radio tracking chief, said that at that rate, Sputnik II could stay aloft more than a year.

Mengel told newsmen the U. S. test satellite to be fired next month will have a solar-powered radio that should last as long as the satellite, perhaps a year.

CAGE FESTIVAL SET

NEW YORK (AP) — California and Seattle from the West Coast and Dayton from the Midwest will play in the sixth annual Holiday Festival basketball tournament set for Madison Square Garden, December 26, 28 and 30.

Other teams to play in the Eastern College Athletic Conference sponsored event are Connecticut, Pittsburgh Temple, Manhattan and New York University.

TROTS SET RECORDS

FREEHOLD, N. J. (AP) — New attendance and wagering marks were set during the 50-day harness racing meet at Freehold Raceway. A total of 172,146 patrons wagered $10,896,935. A new one-day betting high of $442,699 was set and a new single-day attendance mark was created when 7,361 fans turned out on Labor Day.

13TH SEASON WITH LSU

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Coach Cliff Wells is coaching the Louisiana State basketball team for the 13th season. The only returning starters from last season's team that won 15 and lost 9 are Gary Stoll and Bill Jargstorf. However, reserves who won letters and who are back include Ken Eyteheson and Bob Risk.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration—judging from President Eisenhower's two nationwide talks—was caught napping by the Russians.

Either that, or it needed two Sputniks to get it moving.

For weeks the administration had been working on the budget—the cost of running the country—which he will present to Congress in January.

There had been no talk of increased spending for defense or of a rush in missile and satellite development.

Calls For Heavy Spending

Then the Russians fired their Sputniks, ample testimony to the amazing progress they have made in satellites, in rockets to propel them, and in the industrial ability to produce them.

Eisenhower took to the air a week ago to reassure the country it was in no immediate danger.

But as evidence of his realization of the need for speed, he appointed a special assistant to push scientific, satellite and missile development.

And in his nationwide talk last night he called for heavier spending on defense. How much? He didn't say. Will taxes have to go up in 1958? He didn't say. One thing seems sure: they won't be coming down.

Understandably Vague

He talked of the need — as at least part of the means for meeting increased defense costs — for cutting down on the spending on domestic programs.

If he was vague on costs, it's understandable. His administration presumably was at work on a pre-Sputnik kind of budget but now, after the Sputniks, is in a scramble to revise its thinking.

Between now and the time the budget finally is unveiled before Congress, this country may be treated to a campaign of conditioning to get it ready for the spending ahead.

Weeks Does Job

And since the whole country was startled by the Sputniks—and members of Congress already are talking of willingness to increase defense spending—the administration shouldn't have much trouble selling its program.

Yesterday, a few hours before Eisenhower talked, Secretary of Commerce Weeks did a missionary job for the administration on spending.

Weeks indicated in a speech that Eisenhower—when he presents his budget — will call for increased military and foreign aid spending while cutting down on civilian programs.

He said: "The emphasis now is on less butter and more guns."

Eisenhower and his administration weren't putting the emphasis on less butter and more guns before the Sputniks.

Stamp News

The Associated Press

The fourth stamp in the "Wildlife Conservation" series will be placed on first day sale simultaneously at post offices in Corpus Christi, Tex., and New York City November 22.

The 3-center will feature a pair of whooping cranes and their young. One hundred million of these stamps will be printed in three colors—blue, green and yellow.

Whooping cranes have welcome international symbols of conservation, having dwindled from thousands to a small flock of approximately 30 birds. On their winter grounds at the Arkansas National National Wildlife Refuge they are under the protection of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Corpus Christi was selected as one of the first day sale sites because the cranes spend their winters along the nearby coastal area.

New York City was named as the other site to mark the opening of Ninth National Postage Stamp Show of the ASDA to be held November 22 through 24. The theme of the show will be "Wildlife Conservation."

France has been issuing stamps at a prolific rate in recent years. Word from Paris reveals that eight new issues with an architectural theme are soon to be released. The designs include the Court of Honor of the Palace of Elysees, a castle on the Dordogne River, the Chateau of Valency at Indre, the Cathedral at Rouen, Gallo-Roman relics of ancient Glanum, a triumphal arch, a three storied mausoleum and a Roman theater.

Belgium has issued a new 4-franc-plus-2 semi-postal honoring the Belgian Antarctic Expedition. The tri-color adhesives depict a group of Eskimo dogs. A souvenir sheet also was issued. The additional values will go towards the expedition, reports the Philatlic Club of Belgium.

Nationalist China has issued three new stamps from Formosa to commemorate the 30th anniversary of its radio service. The design depicts a globe, a broadcasting tower and a microphone surrounded by radio waves. All the stamps are ungummed.

Selkirk's Drive Cleared Stadium

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — George (Twinkletoes) Selkirk disagrees with those who say that nobody ever hit a fair ball out of Yankee Stadium.

"I don't want to get into an argument with anybody about it," Selkirk says. "But I did hit one out and it went up on the elevated tracks which run out beyond right centerfield."

Selkirk says his blow came in 1936 off Oral Hildebrand, then a pitcher for the Cleveland Indians.

QUEEN OF WOMEN BOWLERS

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., has again been chosen bowling Queen of the Year by the Bowling Writers' Association of America. Anita Cantaline of Detroit was runnerup with Marge Merrick of Detroit, Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia and Stephania Balogh of Cleveland ranked in that order.

One Is Killed And 2 Vehicles Burned When Tractor Trailer Jacknifes Over Two Autos

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — A tractor-trailer smashed across the center island of Rt. 22 here on Tuesday, jackknifed over two cars and burned, killing the occupant of one of the cars.

The drive, of the truck and two others were injured.

Police tentatively identified the charred body taken from the crushed auto, a Cadillac, as that of E. E. Mendenhall, 41, president of a Reading, Pa., detergent firm.

Positive identification was not immediately possible, police said, because there were no cards or papers found on the body, and the body itself was too badly burned even to determine the sex of the victim.

A trace of the license number of the 1957 car showed that it was registered in the name of Avril, Inc., of Reading.

An Avril spokesman said Mendenhall, of Sheerlund, a Reading suburb, had driven the car to New York.

His wife said Mendenhall, the father of two, phoned her from New York early on Tuesday afternoon and said he would be home at about 6 p.m.

He had not arrived home by late Tuesday night.

The driver of the tractor trailer, Frank Restivo, 34, Rosedale, N.Y., was in good condition at Beth Israel Hospital suffering from shock and burns.

Treat Two Drivers

Treated at the hospital and released were the drivers of the other cars, George Hinez, 34, of Metuchen, and George La Torre, 21, of Newark.

Hinez was treated for burns about the face and neck and La Torre for wrist injuries.

Police said the pileup on Rt. 22 near Weequahic Park jammed up traffic along a five mile stretch for nearly four hours. Their efforts and those of firemen were hampered by evening rush hour traffic, and police were forced to route emergency vehicles through Hillside to reach the crash scene.

TRUMAN LIKES HOOVER'S TALK

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman has described as a "sensible statement" former President Hoover's saying that Americans should take a bird's eye rather than a worm's eye view of the missile situation.

"I believe the idea he (Hoover) has in mind is to review our position up, down and crossways," Truman said. "I hope we do that."

Truman made the comment as he walked from the Hotel Carlyle to the Park Ave. home of his son-in-law, Clifton Daniel, for breakfast.

Truman repeated his previous assertions that the Eisenhower administration was to blame for a lag in missiles. He said his administration began a missile study as soon as the Germans began to bomb London with rockets in the closing days of World War II.

Truman is here to receive the annual Human Rights Award of the Joint Defense Appeal at a dinner tonight. The organization is the fund raising agency of the American Jewish Committee and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson sounds as cautious about helping the Eisenhower administration on foreign policy as a man walking barefoot through a field of broken bottles.

Stevenson, a little like Hamlet sometimes in trying to make up his mind to do or not to do, issued a very carefully phrased statement on the help he'd give.

He stated his position only after the White House erroneously said he had turned down a suggestion that he help.

But since Stevenson is a handy man with the English language, his phrasing is hardly an accident. Translated into very simple English, it sounds like: "I don't want to stick my neck out too far."

At the same time President Eisenhower, who wanted Stevenson's help, played just as cautious about asking him. In fact, he didn't ask him. He had secretary of State Dulles do it.

This is an old story with the Eisenhower administration. The same kind of thing happened with former President Truman, whose relations with Eisenhower have been frigid since 1952.

Early this year Greece and Turkey, planning to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the help Truman started giving them in 1947, wanted him to visit both countries in March. They told the Eisenhower administration.

Eisenhower talked it over with Dulles. But it was Dulles, not Eisenhower, who sent the invitation to Truman. Truman rejected it, saying he had other engagements.

Then the State Department said both Eisenhower and Dulles regretted Truman's decision.

When Eisenhower goes to Paris next month to try to glue American alliances tighter, he'll be in a ticklish spot. He'll need as much solid American backing as he can get, from Democrats as well as Republicans.

Dulles asked Stevenson for help in working out a policy for Paris Stevenson, although he lost two presidential campaigns, still is titular head of the Democratic party.

If Stevenson helps make that policy, and the Democrats don't like it, he's in danger of being blasted along with Eisenhower from inside his own party. Yesterday he issued a statement which said:

He could not "undertake to formulate the President's policies" but "I would gladly review and discuss our government's proposals before they were put in final shape."

This is hair-splitting: since he'll be giving his views, he'll be helping to formulate Eisenhower's policies if Eisenhower buys what he says. He said further he'll back up, publicly and politically, any policy he agrees with.

Reject Negroes' Plea For Tuskegee Land

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—Negroes who had asked the Tuskegee City Council to reannex territory cut out of the city limits last summer were turned down Tuesday night.

Mayor Phil Lightfut said the Council voted unanimously to deny a petition signed by more than 700 Negroes.

The areas which the petitioners sought to restore were excluded when the city limits were cut down last summer by an act of the Alabama Legislature.

About 600 white voters were unaffected by the law. Only about 10 of more than 400 registered Negro voters remained in the city limits.

MAY ENLARGE CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Hope of averting the threatened breakdown in East-West arms talks grew Wednesday as the Western powers decided to give ground to Soviet demands for enlargement of the U. N. Disarmament Commission.

The United States, Britain and France agreed privately to relax their stand against changing the makeup of the 12-nation commission. Previously word spread that the Russians were willing to modify their demand that all 82 U.N. members take part in the negotiations.

Informed sources said the Big Three had not settled on how many members should be added to the commission. Reportedly they were thinking of five to seven.

Up Before Assembly

These informants said a resolution reflecting the Western position may be put before the General Assembly when it takes up the disarmament question tomorrow.

It was not clear whether this resolution would be independent of India's proposal to add 10 nations to the commission, including representatives from East and West Europe, Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Russia has not indicated how large an increase she would settle for. But she made plain she will not sit in on any talks with the present five-nation subcommittee, where the other four members—the Western Big Three and Canada—are lined up against her.

Informed sources said Communist Yugoslavia had entered the negotiations to revive the arms talks. Yugoslav Delegate Srdja Prica conferred on Tuesday with Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge and scheduled talks with Russian Deputy Foreign Ministe V.V V. Kuznetsov.

The Yugoslavs reportedly want an increase of 10 members but feel they should be uncommitted nations who would act as a true balance force in the negotiations.

York Springs

YORK SPRINGS — The Lutheran Laymen's Movement's latest stewardship film, "A Living Church," will be shown at the York Springs Lutheran Church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The story has a true-life setting depicting a mission congregation being organized in a rapidly growing community. Dr. Franklin Clark Fry speaks at its dedication, reminding them of the help they received during their formative years. As they grow more mature they too, share in a world wide ministry.

The camera work took place in the Lutheran Church House, on a college campus, in foreign mission fields, and in strategic places on both sides of the iron curtain. Congregational scenes in their own church life are re-enacted.

In connection with the worship service at the York Springs Lutheran Church last Sunday, a brief dedication service was held for the recently-repainted exterior of the church.

George Jay, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bromwell, was baptized at the worship service at the Lower Bermudian Lutheran Church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Asper entertained at dinner Sunday in celebration of the birthdays of Charles Stock and Miss Esta Deatrick, Biglerville. Mrs. Stock was also a guest.

Pvt. Robert Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller, has completed his basic training in the U.S. Army and is visiting his family.

The address of Pvt. Donald Golden is F R 13629274 43rd Co. 4th Stu. Bn., TS AB, 2nd Platoon, Fort Benning, Ga.

Pfc. Richard Decker spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Decker. He is serving with the U.S. Marines at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Russel (Bud) Grove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Grove, who is with the Cumberland Company Reserves, had his first airplane rise last week when his unit was sent to Fort Knox, Ky.

Recent dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Whitcomb were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whitcomb, Mechanicsburg; Mrs. Esther Whitcomb and daughter, York; Mrs. Rosie Bream, Mrs. Mary Whitcomb and daughter, Karen and Paul Miller, of York Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry LaRue, Mr. and Mrs. Larry LaRue and Rev. Amos D. Meyers were among those from this charge who attended the laymen's rally of the Harrisburg District of the Methodist Churches.

Pvt. George Fahnestock, Fort Knox, Ky., is spending several days with his wife, the former Phyllis Beaverson and his parents.

The official board of the York Springs Methodist Church will meet on Thursday, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mary French, Harrisburg, spent Tuesday night with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Coulson. She had spent several days with Mrs. Stella Knaub.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myers flew to New York on Monday morning where they attended a meeting in the Hotel Taft. They returned home Tuesday night.

HARRISBURG (AP) — An elderly Harrisburg woman died in a hospital Tuesday night a few hours after sre was injured in a collision of two automobiles.

The victim, Mrs. Matilda Yost, 70, suffered a fractured skull, crushed chest and internal injuries.

SOLON ATTACKS GM'S OFFER TO MAKE REFUND

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Rep. F Edward Hebert (D-La) says an offer by General Motors to repay the Air Force more than half of $17,459,200 constitutes a plea of guilty to misrepresentation and excess profits.

Hebert, chairman of the House Armed Service subcommittee for special investigations, said Tuesday a large part of the $9,701,458 offer was conditional. It depended on a refusal by the Justice Department to press charges of fraud against the huge automobile firm.

Profit Before Taxes

General Motors made a profit of 11.6 per cent before taxes, Hebert said. He termed two million dollars of the profit overpricing by the corporation.

Hebert released two letters by John F. Gordon, vice president of General Motors. Both were sent to Maj. Gen. William T. Thurman, deputy director of procurement and production for the Air Force.

One letter, he said, described the overpricing as based on a misunderstanding of figures by the Air Force and offered to refund $4,701,548.

The second letter concerned excess profits, he said, and it contained a check for $2,400,000. This check, added to $2,600,000 which General Motors paid in taxes on that part of the contract, Hebert said, would make a refund of five million dollars in excess profits.

Sneak Into Movie; Bill Is Paid Later

TULSA, (AP) — Gene Welch, manager of the Delman Theater, said two boys rode up to the box office on bicycles, shoved a tightly-folded piece of paper through the opening and hurried away.

The paper contained 70 cents in pennies, nickels and dimes. On one side of the paper was a note. It read: "Dear Delman: My brother and I slipped into the movie a few weeks ago to see 'Frankenstein.' We are ashamed of ourselves and won't do it again. Here's the money."

The letter wasn't signed.

GEN. BIDDLE IS NOT CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's adjutant general, Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr., concentrating on a plan to develop the commonwealth's airport facilities, says he has no interest in seeking the office of governor.

Mentioned for some time as a possibility for the Democratic nomination to succeed Gov. Leader next year, Biddle on a visit here yesterday laughingly rejected the proposal.

"They can't be serious about that," he commented.

Reminded that reports had persisted that his name might be put forward to run for governor on a ticket with Leader for U.S. senator, Biddle said he had no interest in advancing himself politically.

"I just want to help my old home state, particularly on this unemployment business," Biddle told a reporter.

Seeks New Industry

He said he was particularly interested in trying to bring new industry to the anthracite region to take up the slack of unemployment in the coal industry in recent years.

The adjutant general who serves also as chairman of the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission, was here to press for expansion of local air service in Pennsylvania and throughout the northeastern United States.

He presented to the Civil Aeronautics Board a list of specific recommendations aimed at boosting air service in line with present and proposed construction of airports around Pennsylvania.

Biddle said he was gratified by the response of local communities around the state which participated in working up the recommendations and development program for airports.

Expansion of air service, he said, is just one of the many measures now being undertaken to bring new industry to Pennsylvania, relieve unemployment in spots and build for the economic future.

Biddle's report, presented to the CAB, lauded the work of Gov Leader and the State Department of Commerce, headed by William R. Davlin, in a concentrated drive to attract new industry.

REPORT MANY BALD-HEADED WOMEN IN U. S.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — This may come as quite a surprise to meen, but there are as many bald headed women as men.

Authority for that random statistic is 43-year-old Mrs. Ruth Mary Donnelly, a wigmaker known professionally as M. Ruth.

As far as her trade is concerned, she has three women clients to every man, and the men who come to her establishment to have a "rug" made are, for the most part, under 30 years of age. At that age men are quite sensitive about the loss of hair. Women always are, which explains why nobody sees a bald headed woman. They do something about it, and quick.

Mrs. Donnelly says she really enjoys her rather unusual occupation.

Artistic Challenge

"Bald heads used to make me nervous," she explains, "but today they present an artistic challenge. Much as an artist gazing at an unpainted canvas, you see the heads as forms on which to create attractive hair lines.

"It is very rewarding to see your creation restore the confidence of men and women who have lost their hair. It is a rewarding profession, too, financially."

M. Ruth charges from $200 up for a woman's wig, whereas the price for a man's skypiece ranges upwa.d from $250, mainly because there is more detail work.

Many women wear partial wigs, known as crown falls, to cover thinning hair at the top of their heads, and there are many young women whose hair thins out, due perhaps to some deficiency during pregnancy. Disease, worry and hereditary factors contribute to baldness, wigmaker Ruth says.

Likes Her Work

"Young men who replace the receding hairline with a wig find that girls at dances start saying 'yes' for a change," she laughs.

"I like my work. I enjoy making people feel their REAL age instead of their apparent age. I became interested in this field when I met an elderly French wigmaker. I studied and practiced with him for some time before I went out on my own. It's hard and exacting work. There's only one way to learn it and that is to study on the job with a proficient wigmaker. There are no schools here that teach it. By comparison, Germany's schools have three year courses.

"We use human hair in the wigs, most of it from Europe, because it is longer. Chinese and Indian hair is less satisfactory than European and American."

Mrs. Donnelly is married to a utility company executive.

"HOT CARGO" CONTRACTS ARE VOIDED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has ruled that "hot cargo" contracts between unions and common carriers violate the Taft-Hartley law.

The question of the validity of such agreements has been before the board previously, but Tuesday's 3-2 decision marked the first time the NLRB has declared them unlawful. The board ruled the contracts valid and enforceable in 1949.

A hot cargo clause generally provides that employes may refuse to handle goods which the union brands as "unfair."

The ruling yesterday concerned Teamsters Union Local 728 in Atlanta, Ga. The board found that the local violated Taft-Hartley's ban on secondary boycotts by telling its members they could refuse to handle shipments from the Genuine Parts Co. of Atlanta.

In Many Contracts

The hot cargo clauses have been included in Teamster contracts with many truck firms.

NLRB Chairman Boyd Leedom and board member Joseph A. Jenkins said the board should adopt a rule that a union's making of a hot cargo contract constitutes in itself evidence of union "inducement or encouragement" of secondary boycott activity.

Other board members took a more restricted view.

Member Stephen S. Bean agreed in finding a violation. However, he based his stand on a 1955 board ruling that hot cargo clauses are valid but may not be enforced by union appeals to employes.

The fifth board member, Abe Murdock, dissented. Referring to the Leedom-Jenkins opinio , Murdock said, "Never before has any member of this board or of any court adopted so extreme a view."

Not Free To Decide

Leedom and Jenkins, explaining their finding, said common carriers "are not free to decide, at will, to withhold the services they hold themselves out as able to perform, from any customer or class or customers."

The case which brought Tuesday's NLRB decision came as a result of a strike which Local 728 called at the Rayloc Division plant of Genuine Parts in March 195.

Many truck lines hauling freight for Rayloc had ho' cargo contracts with the Teamsters, and the union advised its members they could elect, as individuals, to refuse to handle Rayloc freight although the union could not order them to refuse.

The NLRB found that handling of Rayloc freight practically ceased after that.

A FRIENDLY NIP — Bill the pigeon pecks at Don Nolan's ear just to be neighborly in Courtland, Kan. At other times Bill pulls at women's hair, nips toes and chases animals.

EX-PAGE BOY IS INDICTED

The youth, H. K. Williams, 18, Falls Church, Va., was charged along with three other teen-agers of robbing Frank P. Cullen, Washington, of $44 in cash, a $35 watch and a wallet valued at $5 on Sept. 25.

On Monday Williams was indicted in Fairfax County, Va., on a charge of stealing six tires from a service station on Sept. 1.

Missing 18 Days

Williams was in the news last June when he and a Swedish diplomat's daughter, Christina Wennerstrom, 16, drove off together and were not heard from for 18 days. When stopped for speeding near Williamsport, Pa., the two said they had planned to get married but were too young to get a license.

The girl returned to Sweden with her family, Col. and Mrs. Stig Wennerstrom. He was Swedish air attache here.

SCHOOL ACTS TO PROTECT ITS YOUNG PUPILS

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Grade school pupils got a warning recently to "keep away from strangers!"

The public school system sent a printed and illustrated page home with them to give to their parents so fathers and mothers could read and enlarge on the subject.

"Through the years, we have had quite a little trouble with children being lured away," says F. M. Wilson, safety director for the public school system. "The children would go with strangers, not thinking, and run into trouble."

The warning starts out with this statement to parents:

"Children are not released to unidentified persons. Parents who want their children released must come to school and not telephone. School children are in the school's care from the beginning of the school day until the close of that day."

The leaflet shows a little girl standing on a sidewalk facing a man sitting in a parked car with the door open. The warning says:

"If a man asks: Directions — Tell him if you know but do not go with him. Would you like a ride to school?—Tell him you do not ride with people you do not know. Would you like some candy? —Tell him you do not take things from strangers. Would you like a job for a few minutes?—Tell him you are on your way to school. Would you go with him because your parents want you to come home—Tell him you will see your principal and he will call your parents."

The well-illustrated leaflet goes on to warn:

"Don't go with men or women you do not know. Don't play away from home, and always play with other children. Stay with people you know. Do not ask a stranger for help. Don't play alone on school playgrounds."

Each subject is accompanied by a photo depicting a fitting situation.

It winds up with a picture of two husky, smiling policemen on each side of a little boy holding a school crossing patrol signal. The leaflet says:

"When you need help, these are your best friends. Do not be afraid to talk to them if you are lost, sick or in any kind of trouble. They will help you."

Wilson says, "We think these warnings have done some good. We haven't had any unhappy experiences, that I can recall, in the past few years."

He gives this example of row well the warning sinks in:

"About three years ago I noticed a boy having trouble with a broken bike. I offered to take him home. This little fourth or fifth-grader looked as me suspiciously and said, 'Well, we're not supposed to.' I had to prove to him that I was a school man before he would trust me. The principal OK'd me."

IN 58 DAYS A '58 PLYMOUTH RAN 58,000 MILES—EQUAL TO

MORE THAN TWICE AROUND THE WORLD

AND IT DROVE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY!

We knew this car was tough.

We designed it that way.

That's why we weren't afraid to give Plymouth the toughest, true test run of all time... with all America as the "track."

We didn't coddle this Plymouth. Didn't crate it and ship it carefully from place to place. Instead, we aimed it out of Los Angeles one misty morning and sent it through a course that ran 58,000 miles through 37 states.

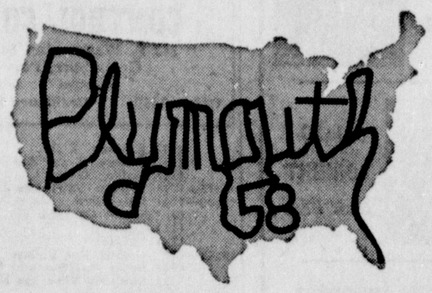

The time limit? Only 58 days.

A thousand miles a day!

The equivalent of 6 years' driving crammed into little more than 8 weeks!

Three times this car crossed the Rockies. Three times it wound its way across the country... passing through more than 1200 cities and towns. Whipping over turnpikes... creeping through city traffic... arrowing down super-highways... feeling its way through rutted detours. At the end, it still looked, ran and rode like new.

This is what lasting value really means. The ability to take everything that American roads and weather can dish out—and come up grinning. Why don't you give Plymouth a test drive yourself—today? You'll see what we mean.

That's the Plymouth "track"... and just look at that route! Every possible road and weather condition. Plymouth ran every inch of that murderous route 3 times in just 58 days. What greater proof of lasting, built-in stamina!

Star of the Forward Look... Plymouth ahead for keeps!

RETRIBUTION

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — State police said they would pay a parking fine for one of their patrol cars. They were in such a hurry to make a gambling raid they forgot to put a coin in the meter.

AIRDRIE, Alta. (AP) — A projector stolen from the Airdrie Public School at Christmas, 1953, was replaced with a $600 projector. Now the original projector has been returned by mail from Vancouver, without any explanation or name of the sender.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Thieves who entered the Richmond Skeet club stole 19 traps and also the high and low houses from which clay pigeons are hurled.

Make Scrapbooks Of News Clippings

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. James West have started a scrapbook of newspaper clippings.

They believe that when their baby son, Mike, grows up he'll enjoy reading about what happened since he was born.

The clippings are birth announcements, news of world events, business conditions and baseball scores.

"We've even clipped some of the comic strips," Mrs. West said.

ASKS MORE GUNS LESS BUTTER TO MEET RED DEFY

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary of Commerce Weeks called on industry Wednesday to support a "less butter and more guns" federal budget to meet the challenge of Soviet science.

Weeks strongly suggested the budget which President Eisenhower will hand Congress in January will call for greater military and foreign aid spending and curtailment of civilian programs.

The secretary addressed 1,200 members of the National Defense Executive Reserve, opening a two-day conference here. The rsrv is made up of businessmen who have served in government.

"The Soviet Union's sensational exploits in satellites have posed the most serious challenge of this tension-wracked age," Weeks said. "As President Eisenhower steps up the campaign to mobilize scientific and military resources, American business must move up into the front line of defense."

Naming ways by which industry can cooperate, Weeks headed the list with the exhortation: "Support a budget adequate for national security."

The secretary called on the reservists also to "stimulate a sense of urgency" on weapons development and production, and to lend technicians to Washington.

"More scientists, engineers, business executives and other experts from private industry are needed for advice and service," Weeks said.

Weeks reported that ever since Russia sent aloft the first Sputnik, businessmen "have told me that no effort is too gigantic, no scientific goal too imaginative and no sacrifice too great where survival is at stake."

Concerning the budget proposals now being drafted within the administration, Weeks noted that "spending huge sums by itself does not guarantee a miracle."

"Unless public funds are wisely used, the loss actually undermines defense," he said.
